PREFACE TO THE 2019-2020 EDITION

This edition of the Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary Catalog supersedes all previous editions. The Institution reserves the right to make changes of any nature in the program requirements and policies described in this Catalog. Although every effort will be made to notify current students of such changes, the Institution will assume no responsibility for the effects of a Catalog change on a student's course of study. Financial aid information and requirements in particular are updated frequently, and students are advised to consult with the Financial Aid Administrator for the latest information.

NEW YORK STATE DISCLAIMER

Although Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary does not offer programs leading to academic degrees authorized by the New York State Board of Regents, it is the opinion of this Institution that its studies – although different in kind – are equivalent in duration, intensity, depth of knowledge and quality of scholarship when compared to degree programs approved by the Board of Regents. The credit values for each course measure a student's progress toward the First Talmudic/Rabbinical degree offered by this Institution.

Under the laws of New York State, a corporation formed for religious and educational purposes, which does not confer the academic degrees which require program registration by the State Education Department, needs no official approval or credentials in order to exist or to offer its courses in postsecondary education. Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary falls into this category and is therefore not subject to the evaluation of the New York State Board of Regents.

NON-DISCRIMINATION POLICY

Qualified men of the Orthodox Jewish faith are admitted to Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary without regard to age, race, color, national origin or physical handicap. Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is in compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and Americans with Disabilities Act of 1992.

Beyond equal access, opportunity and accommodation, Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary is committed to the understanding, sensitivity and support that are so vital in guaranteeing to all qualified students, the same educational experience and environment as well as the equal opportunity to study at the Institution.

AVAILABILITY OF FULL-TIME EMPLOYEE TO ASSIST ENROLLED AND PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

Be'er Yaakov Talmudical Seminary has designated Rabbi Avrohom D. Moshel, Financial Aid Officer, whose office is located at 111 Washington Avenue Unit C, Spring Valley, NY as the full-time employee available to assist enrolled and prospective students in obtaining information on financial aid programs available, criteria for eligibility, procedure for applying for financial aid, cost of attendance, retention rates, completion and transfer rates. Mrs. Fiddle is the Financial Aid officer who can provide institutional security and crime statistics, and all required disclosures and information as required by 668.42, 668.43, 668.45 and 668.46 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

MISSION STATEMENT

Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary, located in the Village of New Square, New York, is one of the principal educational institutions serving the Skverer Chassidic community both in America and abroad. The mission of the Yeshiva has always been to educate young men in Torah and Chassidus, and to promote the ideals of lifelong Torah study and ethical teachings in the Skverer tradition. The specific objectives of the Yeshiva are:

- ✿ To provide an intensive program of Talmudic study that will give students the skills necessary to understand and master the Talmud and will imbue the students with the maturity to undertake lifelong Torah learning, and for those who cannot undertake such, to lead a life according to Torah values.
- ✿ To provide an intensive program of study of Halacha (Jewish Legal Codes), whereby students will master important sections of Shulchan Aruch until they receive expertise in these subjects that will qualify them for Semicha.
- ✿ To develop in the students the ideals and traditions of Skverer Chassidic teachings.

ADMISSIONS

Applicants to Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary must meet one of the following educational requirements:

- a. completion of a high school education by the beginning of the school term for which they are applying; or
- b. have a recognized equivalent of the high school diploma such as a GED certificate; or
- c. completion of homeschooling at the secondary level; or
- d. completion of six credits (or equivalent) of college work that are applicable to a degree offered by BYTS.

Applicants to Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary must also meet the following minimum qualifications:

- Talmud: The ability to independently comprehend basic Talmudic text and the completion of 150 folios of Talmud with the commentary of Rashi.
- Bible: A completion of the Pentateuch and substantial parts of the Prophets and Hagiographa.
- Language: The ability to read and write classical Hebrew; a working knowledge of the Aramaic language of the Talmud; fluency in Yiddish, the language of instruction at Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary.

Prospective students complete an application to the Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary. For applicants for U1, Rabbi Boruch Braun and Rabbi Yosef Mordechai Zabner review the applications and inquire about each applicant by communicating with their references. The applicants who are approved for the continuation of the application process receive a student guide which they review and sign. Upon receipt of the signed student guide, Rabbi Boruch Braun or Rabbi Yosef Mordechai Zabner interviews each prospective student which includes a thorough examination in Talmudic studies. The selection of applicants is based upon their intellectual ability, academic preparation and personal ethical development. If accepted for enrollment, the applicant will receive an acceptance letter. Applicants to U2 or higher have a similar application and interview process. Their applications, references and interviews are processed by the Rabbi Yehuda A. Bluming, the principal of the Kollel.

CAMPUS AND FACILITIES

The Yeshiva campus is located in a spacious educational complex near the entrance of the community of New Square off Washington Avenue in Spring Valley, NY. This campus includes large Botei Medrashim among other study halls, shiur rooms, a number of convenient library locations, a dormitory, a large dining room and the offices of Be'er Yaakov.

The campus setup enhances the interaction between the older and younger students, who share certain facilities such as the dining room, the library and Beis Medrash. This enables the older bochorim and yungerleit to have a profound influence on the younger bochorim by being role models of dedication to study and personal ethical development.

While present facilities are not fully accessible to the handicapped student, every effort will be made to accommodate any handicapped student who is admitted to the institution.

See Appendix A for a map of the campus.

Be'er Yaakov offers an additional location at 5321 12th Avenue, Brooklyn, NY. This is beneficial for our students who marry and move to Brooklyn. They now have the opportunity to continue and complete their education within the Be'er Yaakov program.

LIBRARY

The library is a vital component of the students' learning program. Extensive use of the library enables the students to be successful in their coursework. It is common for a student to consult as many as 10 or more library references in order to comprehend the text of a single Sugyas Hagemara.

The Yeshiva's library collections also service the faculty, since they too must have ready access to an excellent library in order to prepare their shiurim or to provide guidance. Therefore, the success of the program depends to a large degree on the resources contained in the library.

In addition to the large collection of seforim in and near the Botei Medrash of Be'er Yaakov, there are also major collections in the adjacent buildings in the complex, including the community's Shul building. The vast array of seforim include collections of Shaalos U'teshuvos, seforim on Halacha, and Shas, including the entire set of "Bais Medrash" Gemaras published by Oz Vehadar.

Given the proximity of these many collections, the students have access to a large and comprehensive library in the Yeshiva itself and in the buildings next to the Yeshiva. These collections total more than 20,000 seforim.

The library collection in the Botei Medrash includes those volumes that talmidim are most likely to need in their daily chavrusa learning, chazara, and in particular the commentary sforim on the mesechta that is being learned. It also includes the standard Talmudic reference works that are used by the Roshei Kollel and talmidim in the course of everyday learning.

The basic collection is classified under the following topics:

- ✻ Meforshei HaShas
- ✻ Halacha
- ✻ Meforshei HaTorah
- ✻ Mussar
- ✻ Shailos U'Tshuvos

The library also has a special collection of tapes and CDs on various subjects such as the Parshas Hashavua, Mussar, and Daf Hayomi. Many of these recordings are supplied by the organization called U'velechtechta Vaderech. Students in the Yeshiva can borrow tapes or CDs of shiurim and shmussen by contemporary Roshei Yeshiva, Admorim, and others, to enhance their studies in the Bais Medrash. They may also purchase these materials for a very nominal amount of money.

The Yeshiva also stocks Zerah Yakov Kovtzim published by Skver, which includes Divrei Torah from the faculty and students. This resource is especially important to students who want to look up what other students wrote on a topic that they are researching.

TEXTBOOK INFORMATION

Be'er Yaakov offers a highly specialized program of study in Talmud and related subjects. All textbooks are readily available for use on open stacks in the study hall and school library. Students who wish to purchase their own copies of the texts studied may purchase them from one of the local Judaica bookstores. Many students prefer to have their own Gemara which costs between $20-$50, depending on the publisher and edition, and a Kovetz Meforshim which costs between $25 and $45. Most texts used in the program are reprints of the Talmud and other classical texts that do not have ISBN numbers. Below are the addresses and phone numbers of three Judaica stores:

Menorah Judaica 17 Koritz Way Spring Valley, NY 10977 845-354-0262	Ateres Judaica 9 Eisenhower Ave Spring Valley, NY 10977 845-354-3542	Eichler's 5004 13 th Ave Brooklyn, NY 718-633-1505

INCOMPLETES AND WITHDRAWALS

If a student has not completed all required course work, he may have up to six months, at the discretion of the instructor, to complete the work. If it can be determined that, without passing this course, the student will be in compliance with Satisfactory Progress standards, the incomplete will not be considered to affect his average or his satisfactory progress in that interim. If it is determined that without passing this course, the student will not be in compliance with satisfactory progress standards, the student's faculty advisor will meet with the Menahel to discuss the situation. If they are able to determine that the student is making efforts in good faith to complete the missing work, they may allow him to retain the status of satisfactory progress in the interim.

Students who withdraw or fail to complete a course, and obtain the Menahel's approval for the withdrawal, may have the course recorded as Withdrawn Without Penalty. This grade will not be counted in the student's GPA. However, the course(s) will be counted towards the student's number of credits attempted. Students who withdraw or fail to complete a course without the Menahel's approval will receive a failing grade for the course and the grade will be counted in the student's GPA. The course credits will also be counted as credits attempted.

TRANSFER CREDITS

The Yeshiva will grant credits by examination to students transferring from other similar institutions provided that the curriculum in the other institution is similar to the one offered at the Yeshiva, and that the student's knowledge and skills are found to be acceptable at the admissions interview.

Be'er Yaakov generally does not accept transfer credits from other Yeshivos that are accredited by AARTS. However, students may receive credits by examination.

Final decisions regarding the number of credits granted will be determined by Be'er Yaakov. Decisions regarding transfer credits are subject to the same appeals process described above.

Transfer credits are not included in the GPA calculation; however the credits accepted are counted toward both the number of attempted credits and the number of credits earned by the student.

REPETITIONS

All repeated courses are counted in the number of student's attempted credits, but cannot be counted towards full-time enrollment status for the semester in which the repeated course is taken, unless the student is retaking a course in which he received a failing grade.

Students will be allowed to repeat a course provided the student will then remain within the time frame required for satisfactory progress.

NONCREDIT REMEDIAL COURSES

Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary does not offer noncredit remedial courses.

GROUNDS FOR DISMISSAL

Students are expected to attend the entire course and study schedule of Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary as well as all lectures. They must also complete regular oral and/or written exams and maintain satisfactory progress.

Students who fail to adhere to Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary's regulations, may be placed on probation. If improvement is not seen, the Menahel will notify the student that he may be dismissed from the school.

Students who persistently violate Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary's rules of conduct and discipline may also be dismissed from Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary.

It should be noted that dismissals are extremely rare as every effort is made to accept students of high character and diligence.

GRADING SYSTEM

The grading system followed at Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary is based on a combination of criteria. These include an evaluation by instructors of the student's classroom participation and performance, oral examinations and written tests, and diligence in individual study.

The grading scale used for academic record-keeping and for calculating the student's Grade Point Average (GPA) is described in the Satisfactory Academic Progress section below.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

All students pursuing an approved program at Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary are required to maintain satisfactory academic progress toward graduation. This means that students must maintain a cumulative grade point average of C or better. Students are only eligible to receive Title IV federal financial aid as long as they maintain satisfactory academic progress. The satisfactory progress standards for students who receive Title

IV federal financial aid are the same as for all regular students enrolled at Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary. Satisfactory academic progress at Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary has two principal components: a qualitative standard and a quantitative standard:

Qualitative Standard

The student must achieve a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 (the equivalent of a "C" average) or better. Students are evaluated at the end of each semester.

The grading scale used for academic record-keeping and for the calculation of GPA is as follows:

Grade	Quality Points per Credit Hour	Description
A	4.0	Superior
A-	3.7
B+	3.3
B	3.0	Very good
B-	2.7
C+	2.3
C	2.0	Good
C-	1.7
D	1.0	Poor
F	0	Failure (also used for withdrawn with penalty)
I		Incomplete
W		Withdrawn Without Penalty

The Grade Point Average is calculated by multiplying the credit hours per course taken by the quality points earned for that particular course. Then, add these quotients and divide the total by the total number of credit hours attempted. Credit hours with a grade of Incomplete, or Withdrawn without penalty and Pass are not included in the determination of the grade point average, although those hours with a grade of Fail are included.

Quantitative Standard

A full-time student must make sufficient progress through the academic program to complete the 160 credits, five-year undergraduate program, within a time period of not more than seven years (fourteen semesters), with a maximum attempted credits ceiling of 240 credits (see chart below).

Full-time students must successfully complete 67% of the normal attempted credits and must make sufficient progress to complete the normal five-year program in seven years. The chart below illustrates the maximum completion time with the number of credits students must earn by the end of each semester:

Semester	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14
Credits Earned	12	24	36	48	60	72	84	96	108	120	132	144	156	160
Max Attempted credits	18	36	54	72	90	108	126	144	162	180	198	216	234	240

At the end of each semester, students' academic files are evaluated to determine if the students are making satisfactory academic progress. As part of the evaluation, the students' earned credits are divided by the students' attempted credits to determine if the student is progressing through the five-year academic program at a pace sufficient to complete the program within the maximum time frame. If the number of credits earned divided by the number of credits attempted is 67% or greater and the student has earned at least the number of credits that appears in the chart above that corresponds to his semester of attendance, he is determined to be making satisfactory progress.

Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary requires full time status for undergraduate students. Exceptions may only be made with formal permission from the Dean.

ATTENDANCE

Although formal attendance is not taken at Yeshiva Be'er Yaakov, students are expected to attend all classes regularly. Excessive unexcused absences may be grounds for dismissal.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE- Federal Policy

Students requesting an official leave of absence must file their request in writing to the Registrar with the reason for the request. If approved, the request will be placed in the student's academic file. The official leave of absence begins on the date of the request. However, the start date of the leave of absence may be the latest date the students attended an academic – related activity for institutions which are not required to take attendance.

The student must submit the request for a leave of absence and must receive the approval prior to beginning the leave of absence except in unusual circumstances where it was not possible for the student to make the request prior to the start of the leave of absence i.e. if the student was in a car accident or other unforeseen emergency/disaster.

A student will only be granted a leave of absence if it can be expected that the student will return from the leave of absence on time. If it appears that the student may not return after the leave of absence, an approval will not be granted. An approved leave of absence may not be more than 180 days.

Students on an approved leave of absence will not be considered withdrawn from the institution and no refund calculations will be made for tuition payments received. Students who fail to return to school after an approved leave of absence will be considered withdrawn from the institution as of the date of the start of the leave of absence and refunds will be calculated accordingly.

NOTIFICATION OF RIGHTS UNDER FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords eligible students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

- 1) The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days after the day Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary receives a request for access. A student should submit a written request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect to the Registrar, Rabbi Soifer, or Assistant to the Registrar, Mr. Avrohom D Moshel, whose offices are located at 111 Washington Avenue Unit C, Spring Valley, NY. These school officials will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

- 2) The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes is inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA.

A student who wishes to ask the school to amend a record should write to the Registrar or Assistant to the Registrar, clearly identify the part of the record the student wants changed, and specify why it should be changed.

If the school decides not to amend the record as requested, the school will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student's right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

- 3) The right to provide written consent before the university discloses personally identifiable information (PII) from the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

The school discloses education records without a student's prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure, to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary in an administrative, supervisory, academic, research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person serving on the board of trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee. A school official also may include a volunteer or contractor outside of Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary who performs an institutional service or function for which the school would otherwise use its own employees and who is under the direct control of the school with respect to the use and maintenance of PII from education records, such as an attorney, auditor, collection agent or a student volunteering to assist another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the school.

Upon request, the school also discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

- 4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office

U.S. Department of Education

400 Maryland Avenue, SW

Washington, DC 20202

FERPA permits the disclosure of PII from students' education records, without consent of the student, if the disclosure meets certain conditions found in §99.31 of the FERPA regulations. Except for disclosures to school officials, disclosures related to some judicial orders or lawfully issued subpoenas, disclosures of directory information, and disclosures to the student. §99.32 of FERPA regulations requires the institution to record the disclosure. Eligible students have a right to inspect and review the record of disclosures. A postsecondary institution may disclose PII from the education records without obtaining prior written consent of the student –

- ✱ To other school officials, including teachers, within Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary whom the school has determined to have legitimate educational interests. This includes contractors, consultants, volunteers, or other parties to whom the school has outsourced institutional services or functions, provided that the conditions listed in §99.31(a)(1)(i)(B)(1) - (a)(1)(i)(B)(2) are met. (§99.31(a)(1))
- ✱ To officials of another school where the student seeks or intends to enroll, or where the student is already enrolled if the disclosure is for purposes related to the student's enrollment or transfer, subject to the requirements of §99.34. (§99.31(a)(2))
- ✱ To authorized representatives of the U. S. Comptroller General, the U. S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or State and local educational authorities, such as a State postsecondary authority that is responsible for supervising the university's State-supported education programs. Disclosures under this provision may be made, subject to the requirements of §99.35, in connection with an audit or evaluation of Federal- or State-supported education programs, or for the enforcement of or compliance with Federal legal requirements that relate to those programs. These entities may make further disclosures of PII to outside entities that are designated by them as their authorized representatives to conduct any audit, evaluation, or enforcement or compliance activity on their behalf. (§§99.31(a)(3) and 99.35)
- ✱ In connection with financial aid for which the student has applied or which the student has received, if the information is necessary to determine eligibility for the aid, determine the amount of the aid, determine the conditions of the aid, or enforce the terms and conditions of the aid. (§99.31(a)(4))
- ✱ To organizations conducting studies for, or on behalf of, the school, in order to: (a) develop, validate, or administer predictive tests; (b) administer student aid programs; or (c) improve instruction. (§99.31(a)(6))
- ✱ To accrediting organizations to carry out their accrediting functions. (§99.31(a)(7))
- ✱ To parents of an eligible student if the student is a dependent for IRS tax

- purposes. (§99.31(a)(8))
- ✿ To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena. (§99.31(a)(9))
 - ✿ To appropriate officials in connection with a health or safety emergency, subject to §99.36. (§99.31(a)(10))
 - ✿ Information the school has designated as “directory information” under §99.37. (§99.31(a)(11))
 - ✿ To a victim of an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or a non-forcible sex offense, subject to the requirements of §99.39. The disclosure may only include the final results of the disciplinary proceeding with respect to that alleged crime or offense, regardless of the finding. (§99.31(a)(13))
 - ✿ To the general public, the final results of a disciplinary proceeding, subject to the requirements of §99.39, if the school determines the student is an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or non-forcible sex offense and the student has committed a violation of the school’s rules or policies with respect to the allegation made against him or her. (§99.31(a)(14))
 - ✿ To parents of a student regarding the student’s violation of any Federal, State, or local law, or of any rule or policy of the school, governing the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance if the school determines the student committed a disciplinary violation and the student is under the age of 21. (§99.31(a)(15))

SUMMARY OF CIVIL AND CRIMINAL PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF FEDERAL COPYRIGHT LAWS

Copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner under section 106 of the Copyright Act (Title 17 of the United States Code). These rights include the right to reproduce or distribute a copyrighted work. In the file-sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement. Penalties for copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or “statutory” damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For “willful” infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys’ fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505. Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense. For more information, please see the website of the U.S. Copyright Office at www.copyright.gov.

JOB PLACEMENT

Although the Yeshiva will assist graduates in obtaining employment, such as by providing references to prospective employers, it is an academic and not a vocational institution, and as such cannot guarantee employment or placement to students who complete its programs.

STUDENT COMPLAINTS

Internal Complaint Procedure

Be'er Yaakov assumes responsibility for honest, ethical and responsible academic management. This includes the willingness to accept complaints and to investigate them thoroughly. Notice is hereby given to applicants, students, employees and all who come into public contact with our institution that we are interested in carrying out our obligation to the public fairly and ethically. Those who believe that they have been mistreated or that they have witnessed misbehavior should follow the complaint procedure that is described below.

Any student who wishes to file a complaint or an appeal of a decision made by the Yeshiva should submit his complaint in writing to his respective Menahel.

Filing of a Written Complaint:

The student's letter of complaint must include the following:

1. The specific written school or program policy that allegedly has been violated.
2. A description of the facts and evidence supporting the alleged violation
3. A description of the redress that the grievant seeks

The Menahel will consult with faculty members as appropriate, and will respond to the student's complaint in a timely manner.

The complaint will be investigated, and the student will be informed in writing within 30 days of the resolution of his complaint. No person directly involved in the complaint issue will make the final determination of the complaint.

If the resolution of the complaint proves unsatisfactory, the complainant may contact the Board Administrator for an appeal and review of the decision. Complaints received either in writing or by telephone will be investigated thoroughly. Complaints or questions must be submitted within 10 days after the student received the initial decision of the student's complaint. The request for appeal/review should be addressed to:

Mr. Yitzchok Soifer, Administrator
111 Washington Avenue Unit C
Spring Valley, NY 10977

New York State Complaint Procedures

Section 494(C)(j) of the New York Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, provides that any student, faculty member, or other person who believes that he or she has been aggrieved by an institution of higher education has the right to file a written complaint.

The complaint may be filed by any person with reason to believe that an institution has acted contrary to its published standards or that conditions at the institution appear to jeopardize the quality of the institution's instructional programs or the general welfare of its students. Any student who believes he has been aggrieved by an institution on or after May 4, 1994, may file a written complaint with the State Education Department within three years of the alleged incident.

How to File a Complaint:

- 1) The student should first try to resolve the complaint directly with the institution by following the internal complaint procedures provided by the institution, as described above. The Education Department suggests that the complainant keep a copy of all correspondence with the institution.
- 2) If a student is unable to resolve the complaint with the institution or believes that the institution has not properly addressed his concerns, he may contact the Postsecondary Complaint Registry to request a complaint form. The Registry may be contacted at:

New York State Education Department

Postsecondary Complaint Registry

One Park Avenue, 6th Floor

New York, NY 10016

Telephone: 212-951-6493

- 3) The completed complaint form should be signed and sent to the above address, and should indicate the specific resolution being sought and any efforts that have been made to resolve the complaint through the institution's internal complaint processes. Copies of all relevant documents should be included with the form.

- 4) After receiving the completed form, the Department will notify the complainant of its receipt and request any additional information. When appropriate, the Department will also advise the institution that a complaint has been made and, when appropriate, the nature of the complaint. The complainant will also be notified of the name of the evaluator assigned to address the specific complaint. The evaluator may contact the complainant for additional information.
 - 5) The Department will make every effort to address and resolve complaints within 90 days of receipt of the complaint form.

Complaint Resolution:

Some complaints may fall within the jurisdiction of an agency or organization other than the State Education Department. These complaints will be referred to the entity with appropriate jurisdiction. When a complaint concerns a matter that falls solely within the jurisdiction of the institution, the complainant will be notified and the Department will refer the complaint to the institution in question and request that the matter receive a review and response.

Upon conclusion of the Department's complaint review or upon a disposition of the complaint by referral to another agency or organization, or to the institution, the Department will issue written notice to the complainant describing the resolution of the complaint. The complainant may contact the Department evaluator directly for follow-up information or for additional assistance.

TUITION AND FEES

See the attached annual supplement for the 2018-2019 costs of attendance.

ACCREDITATION

Be'er Yaakov is accredited as a recognized institution of higher education by AARTS, the Association of Advanced Rabbinical and Talmudic Schools, to offer a First Talmudic Degree. AARTS is recognized by the United States Department of Education as the national accrediting body of Yeshivos and Rabbinical Seminaries in this country. AARTS is located at 11 Broadway, Suite 405, New York, NY 10004. Their telephone number is (212) 363-1991 and their fax number is (212) 533-5335.

Students may review a copy of AARTS' letter of accreditation and letter of exemption by NY State during regular business hours at Be'er Yaakov's Administrative offices located at 111 Washington Avenue Unit C, Spring Valley, NY.

FINANCIAL AID

Any student who has difficulty meeting his educational costs at Be'er

Yaakov Talmudic Seminary should meet with Mr. Avrohom Moshel to learn about the options available to him, which may include grants, scholarships, and deferred payment plans. Mr. Moshel's telephone number is (845)362-3053, ext. 204 and his office is located at 111 Washington Avenue Unit C, Spring Valley, NY.

The Financial Aid Office will make a determination as to the expected amount to be paid by the student and his family and assess what federal aid, if any, may be available to the student.

Financial aid packages that may be offered to students include grants and work-study jobs. The institution may also offer financial assistance in the form of institutional scholarships to needy students provided scholarship funds are available. Eligibility for federal programs is determined by an evaluation of the student's financial need, based strictly on the formulas developed by the Department of Education.

A student's financial need is determined by subtracting the contributions expected from the student and his parents from the total cost of attendance. The total financial aid awarded a student usually cannot exceed the student's need. This process is explained in greater detail below.

In order to qualify for Federal financial aid programs a student must:

- ✿ be enrolled in an eligible program.
- ✿ be a U.S. Citizen, permanent resident of the U.S., or eligible non-citizen.
- ✿ utilize all assistance funds for education-related expenses.
- ✿ have fulfilled Selective Service registration requirements.
- ✿ maintain satisfactory progress toward completion of a program of study.
- ✿ be a high school graduate.
- ✿ sign a certification statement that he does not owe a refund to any Title IV program, and is not in default on any Title IV loan.

APPLYING FOR FINANCIAL AID

To apply for financial aid, a prospective student should complete a "Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)" available at the Financial Aid Office.

Students may be required to supply additional documentation, such as IRS Tax Return Transcripts and/or Verification Worksheets to verify the information supplied on the FAFSA.

Awards are made for one academic year at a time, and are not automatically renewable. Students must reapply each year before the deadline as outlined below.

FINANCIAL AID NEED

Title IV federal program eligibility is based on a process called "need analysis”. The following is a brief explanation of need analysis.

First, a determination is made whether the student is dependent on his parents, or is independent. There are several factors that are taken into account. Students should carefully read the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and its instructions. The Financial Aid Officer will be able to explain further if the student has any questions about his status.

If the student is determined to be dependent on his parents, a parental contribution is assessed. This is the amount that the parents are expected to pay, based on their income and available assets. Living allowances based on family size are made for expenses such as household support, taxes paid, and the number of children in college.

The student himself is expected to contribute towards his education, using his earnings, if applicable. The student’s assets (such as savings) are generally considered to be available for the purpose of his education and are expected to be divided among his years of post-secondary education.

The Parental Contribution, where applicable, is added to the Student Contribution, to yield the “Expected Family Contribution”. Expenses beyond those listed above may be considered under a process known as “Professional Judgment”. This process can be initiated by student request after the student’s initial eligibility has been determined. Then, the student and/or parent submit documentation of tuition expenses, medical expenses, and/or other unusual expenses or circumstances (such as loss of income). Upon proper documentation, the circumstances can be taken into account by the Financial Aid Administrator to produce a different “Expected Family Contribution”.

The student’s budget or cost of education is calculated based on tuition and fees plus a standard allowance for living expenses, which depends on whether the student lives on-campus, with his parents, or off-campus.

The Expected Family Contribution is then subtracted from the student’s total budget. The result is known as the student’s “need”. This concept of need is the foundation of financial aid. Students exhibiting need, who apply on time, will probably be awarded aid.

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Applications for Pell Grants for the 2019-2020 year may be processed until June 30, 2020. However, students are urged to submit their applications by March 1, 2020. Failure to meet the deadline may delay the processing of a student’s application. More important, the funds for some programs are limited and will be distributed with priority given to those students who have met the deadline.

Please note that students are required to update certain types of information that they have entered on their application, i.e. dependency status, household size, and number of family members enrolled in post-secondary education. Be sure to discuss any such changes with the Financial Aid Administrator.

FEDERAL AID PROGRAMS

The Federal Pell Grant Program provides grants to undergraduate students. These grants do not have to be repaid. This program is an “entitlement” which means that each eligible student who attends an eligible institution and applies on time may receive a Federal Pell Grant. Annual grants vary from $650 to $6195, based on the “Expected Family Contribution” generated by a federally mandated formula.

Financial aid disbursements in the Federal Pell Program are scheduled each semester provided all paperwork has been submitted and is complete. A student generally receives one half of his scheduled award during the first semester and the second half during the second semester. Students whose paperwork is completed during the second semester may be paid retroactively for the first semester.

During the 19-20 Academic year, Be’er Yaakov will be offering a 3rd semester to enable students to accumulate additional credits annually in order to expedite graduation. Be’er Yaakov anticipates that offering the third semester will provide more students with an opportunity to graduate. As an incentive for students to enroll in the summer semester, Be’er Yaakov offers reduced tuition, room and board costs for this semester as indicated on the tuition schedule in the applicable year’s catalog.

The federal government has made Pell available year-round for eligible students. These students may receive up to 150% of their scheduled award for a 3-semester academic year, provided students attend at least half-time during the Summer or third semester of the academic year. This additional payment will be applied to the students’ lifetime Pell eligibility. The amount of Federal Pell Grant funds you may receive over your lifetime is limited by federal law to be the equivalent of six years of Pell Grant funding. Thus, the maximum amount a student may receive in Pell Grant funds is 600% of the scheduled award.

Payments from the Federal Pell Program will be credited to the student’s tuition account. Students will be informed of the expected amount of these payments, and may inspect their tuition records during business hours at the Financial Aid Office.

The Campus-Based Programs are a group of programs funded under Title IV. The Campus-Based Programs in which the institution participates are: Federal Work Study (FWS) and Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG).

In these programs, fixed sums are allocated to each school based on its size and other factors. The institution then analyzes the need of all eligible financial aid applicants whose paperwork is completed in a timely manner, and determines an equitable distribution of the funds available in a process known as “packaging”. Thus, students who apply after initial packaging deadlines (as posted in school) may be too late to receive any funds from these programs.

FWS - Federal Work Study

The Federal Work Study Program is an employment program. Funds are allocated to schools as part of the campus-based programs as explained above. Eligible students are offered part-time employment. The Financial Aid Office, in conjunction with the academic staff, determines through an interview if a student is eligible for employment, based on his abilities to fulfill his academic responsibilities with the additional burden of employment. Employment is also contingent on student qualifications for the available positions.

Federal Work Study funds are disbursed in the form of payroll checks distributed monthly. These funds are disbursed until the allocated funds are exhausted.

FSEOG

The FSEOG (Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants) program provides need-based grants to help low-income undergraduate students finance the costs of postsecondary education. When making FSEOG awards, priority is given to those students with “exceptional need” (those with the lowest Expected Family Contributions, or EFCs, at the institution) and who are also Federal Pell Grant recipients. A student’s filed FAFSA is part of the application process for FSEOG. The FAFSA can be completed on the Web at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov> or in the administrative office of Be'er Yaakov.

FSEOG program disbursements for the academic year are split between the first, second and third semesters. Payments will be credited to the student’s tuition account. Students will be informed of the expected amount of these payments, and may inspect their tuition records during financial aid office business hours.

NY STATE TAP GRANTS

The Tuition Assistance Program (TAP), New York’s largest grant program, helps eligible New York residents attending in-state postsecondary institutions pay for tuition. TAP grants are based on the applicant’s and his or her family’s New York State taxable income.

To be eligible for TAP, a student must:

- ✱ be a United States citizen or eligible noncitizen.
- ✱ be a legal resident of New York State one year prior to the term start date.
- ✱ study at an approved postsecondary institution in New York State (NYS).
- ✱ have graduated from high school in the United States, earned a GED, or passed a federally approved "Ability to Benefit" test as defined by the Commissioner of the State Education Department.
- ✱ be enrolled as a full-time student taking 12 or more credits (applicable toward your degree program) per semester.
- ✱ meet good academic standing requirements.
- ✱ be charged at least $200 tuition per year.

- ✿ not be in default on any state or federal student loan or on any repayment of state awards.
- ✿ meet income eligibility limitations.
- ✿ Annual TAP awards range from $500 to $165. The award amount is determined by: academic year in which first payment of TAP or any state award is received
- ✿ type of postsecondary institution and the tuition charge
- ✿ combined family NYS taxable income, federal, state or local pension income and private pension and annuity income, if applicable
- ✿ Dependency status. instead of “financial status (dependent or independent)” other family members enrolled in college

Once a student submits his FAFSA, the US Department of Education automatically forwards his information to HESC, the NY state entity that manages and distributes TAP. Although TAP may automatically certify certain students, most students will receive an ETA (Express TAP Application) from HESC which needs to be completed, signed and sent back in order to be eligible for funding.

Any students requiring assistance with their ETAs may approach Be’er Yaakov’s financial aid office for assistance.

MERIT AWARD PROGRAM

Be’er Yaakov offers the Merit Award to students who maintain excellent attendance, excellent test scores, and consistent advancement throughout the program. To receive this award, students are required to complete an application which is available at the administrative offices at 111 Washington Ave. Unit C, Spring Valley, NY 10977. The program description is available at the office and posted on the BYTS website.

AMERICAN OPPORTUNITY TAX CREDIT

Be’er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary, in compliance with U.S. federal tax laws, files a form 1098-T, reporting payment of qualified tuition and related expenses received from, or on behalf of, the student and furnishes a copy to the student. This completed form can enable the student, or parents of a dependent student, to claim an education tax credit.

INSTITUTIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Institutional scholarship funds are available for students who have exhausted all other avenues of assistance and are still unable to meet their cost of attendance.

The family is expected to contribute towards the student’s education, based on their ability to pay, as determined by formula explained above (under financial aid need). While the institution does not guarantee the availability of funds, every effort is made to offer the student a package of federal and institutional aid, which will cover the student’s direct educational need.

GOOD ACADEMIC STANDING FOR STATE GRANTS

To maintain eligibility for the New York State TAP program, students must be in Good Academic Standing, which is defined as accumulating a minimum number of credits and achieving a specified GPA each semester. The requirements are based on the number of TAP payments the student has received. The chart below illustrates these minimum requirements:

Semester	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Minimum credits that the student must have earned	0	6	15	27	39	51	66	81	96	111
With at least a GPA of	0	1.5	1.8	1.8	2.0	2.0	2.0	2.0	2.0	2.0

For the New York State TAP program, there is no financial aid warning period. Thus, students who do not meet satisfactory progress standards will lose their eligibility for state aid. There is a one-time waiver of good academic standing that may be used by students receiving state grants. This waiver is only issued in situations where there are extenuating circumstances that contributed to the drop in good academic standing, i.e. illness of the student or death in the student's family.

To apply for this waiver, the student must submit a written request to the Menahel and supply third party documentation, i.e. a doctor's note. There is also a C waiver for students who fail to meet the required GPA average. These waivers are handled on a case-by-case basis and a request for the waiver which includes supporting documentation must be provided to the FAA.

STATE GRANT REFUNDS

Be'er Yaakov will disburse any TAP funds due to the student as soon as possible, but not more than 45 days after the institution has credited the award to the student's account.

Instead of disbursing funds due to the student, Be'er Yaakov may credit them toward a future term if the student authorizes the credit in writing. They may also credit TAP payments toward charges the student has incurred for a future term. That term must already be underway when the school receives the payment, and the balance for that term must exceed the amount deferred for that term based on anticipated receipt of a TAP award. An authorization form will be made available to students at the time of registration which will remain in effect for the duration of his study.

REFUND POLICY AND RETURN TO TITLE IV

Students who must withdraw while the semester is in progress must notify the registrar, Rabbi Yitzchok Soifer, of their intent to withdraw from the institution while the semester is in progress.

Institutional Refund Policy

If a student finds that he must leave during the school year, he should inform the Registrar or the Financial Aid Office as soon as possible. The official date of withdrawal is the date that the student indicates as his last date of attendance either by verbal notification or completion of the Withdrawal form.

Students withdrawing from the Yeshiva are entitled to a refund of their paid tuition fees based on the date of the withdrawal:

Fall Semester:	Paid Tuition fees to be refunded:
Withdrawal before semester begins:	100%
Withdrawal within first two weeks of classes:	75%
Withdrawal between two and three weeks:	50%
Withdrawal between three and four weeks:	25%
Withdrawal after four weeks:	No Refund

Spring and Summer Semester:
Withdrawal before semester begins:	100%
Withdrawal within first week of classes:	75%
Withdrawal between one and two weeks:	50%
Withdrawal after 2 or more weeks:	No Refund

Return to Title IV

A student who withdraws from the institution while the semester is still in progress may not be able to retain all of the financial aid he has been awarded. Generally, if a student officially withdraws before 60% of the semester has passed, he will be able to retain a prorated portion of the financial aid awarded. If he withdraws after 60% of the semester has passed, he will most likely be able to retain all of the Title IV federal aid he has been awarded for that semester.

In accordance with federal regulations for schools that are not required to take attendance, the official date of withdrawal for Return to Title IV calculations is the date that the student notifies the registrar or the date that he indicates in his notice to the registrar, whichever is earlier. The withdrawal date for Return to Title IV for a student who withdraws without notifying the registrar is the mid-point of the semester, unless it has been confirmed that the student attended an academically related activity after the midpoint of the semester.

Please note that a one-time per semester “60% Attendance Confirmation Roster” is generally compiled by the Registrar’s office to document the attendance of students who attended 60% of the semester.

To calculate the amount of Title IV to be returned, the institution utilizes the Return to Title IV software provided by the U.S. Department of Education.

If unearned funds remain to be returned after repayment of outstanding loan amounts, the remaining excess will be credited to any amount awarded for the payment period or period of enrollment for which a return of funds is required in the following order:

- (i) Federal Pell Grants
- (ii) FSEOG

Refunds and returns of Title IV funds will be made within thirty days of the date of determination that a student has withdrawn. Refunds to students will be made within fourteen days from the date that a credit balance occurs as a result of the refund calculation.

Refund and Return of Title IV fund calculations are quite complicated. Illustrative examples of refund calculations are available upon request.

FEDERAL FINANCIAL AID WARNING AND ACADEMIC PROBATION

If it is determined at the end of a semester that a student is not making satisfactory progress, the student will be given a financial aid warning. During the warning period, the student will maintain financial aid eligibility. The warning period will last for one semester. During the financial aid warning period, the Menahel will counsel the student and attempt to modify the student's educational program to improve his performance. The Menahel will provide various student services that might include special tutoring, a new study plan, testing, or scheduling accommodation. If, after this financial aid warning period, satisfactory progress standards are still not met, the student will be notified that he will be terminated from financial aid. He will be notified that he has the option of appealing his lack of satisfactory academic progress. Procedures for filing an appeal are described in the section below. If the student successfully appeals the lack of satisfactory progress after the financial aid warning, he will be placed on academic probation for one semester.

The Menahel will monitor the student during the period of probation and will devise a study plan to enable the student to improve his academic standing. This may involve conferences with the student and his instructors. If, during the probation period, the student's academic performance improves and the student's progress is within satisfactory academic progress standards, the probationary status will terminate.

If, after the period of probation, the student's academic performance still fails to meet the academic progress standards of the institution, he will be subject to academic discipline which may include expulsion or suspension from the institution, and will be ineligible to receive Title IV federal financial aid and the financial aid office will be notified accordingly.

All decisions with respect to a student's failure to make satisfactory academic progress and subsequent determinations will be documented in the student's academic folder.

APPEALS PROCESS, MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES

A student who wishes to appeal a determination of probationary status, lack of satisfactory progress, or similar issues must submit an appeal in writing to the Menahel, Horav Yehuda A. Bluming. The Menahel will consider all relevant information, i.e. mitigating circumstances such as illness, death in the immediate family or other unusual situations. The Menahel will consult with faculty members as appropriate.

The Menahel's decision will be conveyed to the student in writing within ten days of receipt of the student's written appeal.

REINSTATEMENT

Any student who loses his financial aid eligibility for a semester due to failure to maintain satisfactory progress in the probationary period, may be reinstated for the following semester upon re-establishing satisfactory progress. The Menahel will notify the Financial Aid Office of the student's reinstatement status at the start of each semester.

To re-establish good standing, students must consult with the Menahel who will design a study plan to assist the student in raising his grades. The Menahel will inform the Financial Aid Office when he determines that the student is successfully implementing the study plan. Such notifications will allow the student to again participate in the aid programs until the completion of the semester. Students who do not take advantage of the Menahel's program shall continue to have their financial aid eligibility suspended until the time they can establish satisfactory progress.

OVERVIEW OF ACADEMIC PROGRAM

The Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary follows the age-old tradition of teaching Talmud to the new generation. Using methods formed centuries ago, the faculty trains and guides the students to discover the layers of facts, laws and ethics embedded in the text of the Talmud. The College curriculum aims to develop a sophisticated approach to study, thought and critical scholarship in the traditional sources of Talmud and related studies.

The program aims to transmit a clear and precise method of Talmud scholarship, while also emphasizing content-based coursework in such courses as Talmud Iyun, Gemara Survey, and Halacha. Texts are studied in their original languages, mostly in Aramaic or Hebrew.

The intensive study of the Babylonian Talmud is the central pillar of the program. The Talmud includes an array of wisdom, traditional culture and ethical behavior. It is also interwoven with traditional law, historical context, rabbinic teachings and analytic debate. The comprehensive and authoritative source of Jewish oral law and custom, it is a text whose every nuance has been carefully analyzed, debated and dissected for close to two millennia.

The educational process in Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary uses the traditional learning methods of European and Middle Eastern Academies of the Talmud as its prototype. The students study the original texts and learn to translate, interpret and analyze the sacred and legal sources. They develop linguistic, interpretive and analytical skills while expanding their knowledge of Talmudic and Biblical facts and ideas. This development is a phased process and students must show successful course work and satisfactory progress to be promoted from one level to the next.

Students are introduced to advanced Talmud scholarship and its techniques during the first two years of the program. Following the learning methodologies taught by the faculty, practicing and drilling help the students master the basics of Talmud analysis. The techniques and methodology of studying the Talmud are acquired through the undergraduate chavrusa/recitation and shiur/lecture. The chavrusa/recitation method is a system of studying in pairs in which the study partners recite and listen alternately as a means to understanding and clarifying the text which they are learning. The students are taught to painstakingly analyze the text of the Talmud. They learn to make a close and sensitive reading of each line so that an extra or omitted word, a seemingly peculiar turn of phrase, or a simile/metaphor/comparison that requires much thought is noted and analyzed.

Concurrently, the students learn to carry out research in an array of medieval Talmud commentaries who provide syntactical and historical interpretation as well as necessary context. The ability to plumb these Rishonim sources helps the students uncover the meaning of the ancient Talmudic phrases and arguments. Additionally, the Rishonim commentaries describe the ways of life of the ancient communities so that the representative cases that constitute the body of the Talmud can be properly understood and applied.

As the students progress in their Talmudic studies, they also learn to reason beyond the specific case under consideration. The students discover, research and analyze the principles that undergird the legal arguments that are advanced in the text. The students realize that the different positions expressed by the Tanaim and Amoraim, the Talmudic masters whose debates and discussions form the ancient texts, are not simply based on local disagreements of opinion or fact, but on differences that go deeper to the very core principles of the Talmudic law. Painstakingly, the students learn to isolate, identify and analyze these core issues.

During the first two years of the program, the learning process revolves around the shiur or Talmudic lecture. While the students are assigned the task of making a preliminary reconnaissance of the text with the basic commentaries in chavrusa pairs as preparation for the shiur, they are still heavily dependent upon the lecture. The lecturer or Magid Shiur demonstrates the analytic techniques and methods by applying them to the assigned text. He discusses and demonstrates the appropriate use of the secondary sources, the classic Rishonim and Acharonim, and makes a presentation of the case analysis for the students to study and master. The goal of the process is to ultimately wean the student from a dependency on the lecture to independent research and analysis carried out under the supervision of senior faculty.

The layering of this experience, of acquiring various strategies to apply to the disparate Talmud cases, constitutes the last phase of undergraduate training. It equips the students with an array of skills, sources and techniques for independent study and advanced research at the graduate level. At graduation, the students have developed a blend of linguistic, interpretive and analytical skills and a broad base of Biblical and Talmudic knowledge that prepares them for specialized study at the graduate level.

Outcomes of the program include the following skills and educational goals:

- ❖ Reading and translating scholarly Hebrew and Aramaic
- ❖ Analyzing legal arguments and identifying points of legal dispute
- ❖ Researching documents whose provenance goes back thousands of years
- ❖ Familiarity with the available scholarly texts of commonly referenced Talmudic secondary literature

- ❖ Researching interpretive and commentary literature of Jewish scholarship
- ❖ Knowledge of hundreds of case studies or sugyos hashas drawn from the Talmudic law in various fields such as marriage and divorce, torts, property and damages, the ethics of interpersonal behavior, charity and communal responsibilities and obligations, and the laws of the Sabbath and holidays
- ❖ Understanding the legal process by which the authoritative law is derived, classified and codified
- ❖ Mastery of Halachic jurisprudence in the Code of Jewish Law
- ❖ Knowledge of classic ethical philosophy or mussar texts resulting in self improvement
- ❖ Developing oral communication skills including constructing and delivering learned symposia

The program and formal requirements are crafted towards achieving these educational goals. However, the students are encouraged through formal educational instruction and by the personal examples set by the esteemed faculty to internalize this knowledge. The combination of academic learning and improved ethical values produces the wise and refined alumni in whom Be'er Yaakov takes great pride. The accumulation of educational skills and knowledge is not only the end of a college education; it is also the beginning of a lifelong journey to develop personal aspirations and character traits.

SHIUR DALED

Be'er Yaakov offers assistance for students who require individualized attention. These students join Shiur Daled. Shiur Daled provides a modified learning curriculum, interspersed with Hashkafa shiurim and Halacha. During morning seder, Shiur Daled students learn Maseches Brachos, a relatively easier mesechta that is suitable to these students' academic abilities and affords them the opportunity to learn gemara with its layers of knowledge. They have shiurim on the mesechta in a small class setting. For afternoon seder, there is chavrusa study of the scheduled daily halacha topic followed by a Halacha shiur. Additionally, there is a Mussar: Chovos Halevavos shiur during afternoon seder. There are extra-curricular, stimulating programs for the Shiur Daled students to encourage them to be proud of their academic and personal accomplishments and to persevere at their studies. Students have access to private mentors as needed.

HALACHA SHIUR

Every Friday, the Dayen gives a general shiur on Halacha Lemaase for the students in Mesivta, Ameilim B'Torah and Kollel, covering most of Hilchos Shabbos every two years. Before every Yom Tov and Yoime Depagra, the Dayen also gives shiurim in Halacha on Dovor B'ito. Usually these shiurim are also mixed with Drush, Mussar and Chassidus.

MIFAL EZER L'TALMUD

This program provides tutoring assistance for students who have difficulty keeping up with their grade level. The Mifal seeks to help the students in various ways. There are skilled and experienced tutors who study for an hour or two a day with students who are struggling to master the Talmud text independently. Additionally, the Mifal helps students who are able to master the Gemara text, but have difficulty grasping the next level of study. It also sponsors "fahf tugs" seder and night seder, offering incentives for both.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

DEPARTMENT OF TALMUD

The core of the Be'er Yaakov academic program consists of the study of the Talmud. The courses are divided between "Iyun" and "Bekius" study. Iyun study is the intensive, in-depth analysis of each section of the assigned Talmudic text, supplemented by the Rishonim commentaries (10th through 15th century) and Achronim commentaries (16th century through contemporary times). Bekius study, which literally means fluency, is a more broadly-ranging study of Talmud, designed to familiarize the student with large areas of the Talmud, to which he may return to at some time in the future for more in-depth study.

Generally, one mesechta of Gemara will be studied per year. The individual Mesechtos studied in the curriculum are found mostly in Seder Nushim and Seder Nezikin. The purpose of this curriculum is to enable the student to master a smaller number of mesechtos rather than study a larger number of mesechtos in a superficial way.

It is thus understandable that since completion of the Talmud is a life-long task, it is more important to develop the skills which will enable the student to continue on to graduate studies and to prepare him for the independent pursuit of knowledge in later years.

Mesechtos in the Talmud Curriculum

Bava Basra

This mesechta deals with claims of right of way, claims and rights of partners, neighbors, purchasers, vendors and heirs, legal forms of acquisitions of partners, and seller's liability for the value of his wares. Deeds intended to protect consumers as well as other legal documents and contracts are also treated.

Bava Metzia

This mesechta deals primarily with claims made against joint transactions, from finding lost articles to wage agreements. Halachic considerations related to trade and industry, usury, labor conditions and responsibilities, deposits and tenancy, etc.

Kesubos

The principle focus of the mesechta is on the kesuba, or marriage contract. It examines the various obligations and commitments incurred therein, specifically in relation to financial considerations and promises made prior to marriage. It also goes beyond this particular legal document to an examination of other forms of legal contracts.

Yevamos

This mesechta examines in depth all aspects of levirate marriage and chalitza, forbidden marriages, and the Halachic procedures involved in determining and validating the death of one's husband with regard to the wife's status as an agunah.

Shevuos

Shevuos deals primarily with the laws of oaths in Halacha (Jewish law). Shevuos deals with the various types of oaths and their consequences.

Bava Kama

This mesechta deals with civil matters such as damages and torts. Two types of damages are dealt with: (1) damage caused by agents in their normal condition (2) damage caused by agents in their abnormal condition. The mesechta consists of ten chapters, which may be grouped as follows: damage caused without criminality; damage caused by a criminal act.

Gittin

In this mesechta, The Halachic principles and procedures regarding cases of Jewish divorce, with particular emphasis on the get, the divorce document itself, is treated. There is enumeration of various technical aspects required to validate the get and for establishing authenticity of signatures on this and on other legal documents.

Brachos

The principles of Gemara Brachos deal with halachic criteria for reciting brachos (blessings on food, mitzvos, and other). This mesechta also deals with obligations and time constraints pertaining to tefilla.

Kiddushin

This tractate concerns the creation of a valid and binding kinyan. There is much discussion regarding what a kinyan is and how it is established. A kinyan is a legally binding status that is engendered through a specific Talmudically sanctioned process. For a woman to be betrothed there needs to be a kinyan. Without a kinyan, there is no bond and no set of consequent obligations. How a betrothal kinyan is accomplished, by whom, and under what conditions, is the opening question. Other forms of kinyan and the biblical basis for kinyanim are also discussed. Another topic in this mesechta is how kinyanim can be effected by proxies, conditional kinyanim, etc. A later set of texts analyzes the obligations of parent to child and child to parent. This tractate also contains source texts on the practice of bris milah, pidyon haben, and chinuch habonim.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

TI01 - Introductory Talmud Iyun, I

7 Credits

In this introductory course to in-depth study of Talmud, students are guided in making the transition from their high school training to analytic study and preparation of the tractate. The format relies heavily on lectures that emphasize textual and analytical skills.

Required for all students. No Prerequisite. Offered in Fall Term.

TI02 - Introductory Talmud Iyun, II

7 Credits

This course strengthens student skills in Talmud analysis and continues to develop basic analytic skills learned in the first semester. Students apply these skills to intense study of the assigned tractate, explicating the Aramaic text while simultaneously analyzing the principles that are discussed and debated. They study the blatt meforshim, making close readings of Rashi and Tosfos with the aid of such Achronim as the Maharsha, Maharam, etc. to reveal the distinctive approaches used by the two major Rishonim commentaries.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI01. Offered in Spring term.

TI03 - Introductory Talmud Iyun, III

7 Credits

Applying their developing skills at Talmud analysis, students prepare for the shiur/lecture by researching and deconstructing the assigned case texts in chavrusa pairs. They study the various theories and concepts being debated by the Tannaim and Amoraim (as explicated by Rashi and Tosfos) and come to shiur primed with an awareness of some of the apparent difficulties presented by these debates. Their study of Tosfos' comparative scholarship expands their focus on the local text to a broader, systematic understanding of Talmudic concepts across shas. The objective of the shiur is to offer a learned analysis of the text. Required for all students. Prerequisite TI02. Offered in Summer term.

GM01 Gemara Survey: Translating/Explicating Mishna-Gemara, I

5 credits

The explanatory tradition that accompanied the written Pentateuch was transmitted in oral form for centuries, providing an interpretive structure for the biblical law. In the epoch after the destruction of the Second Temple, community leaders, fearful that an unstable and disquieting diaspora might rend this fabric of oral law, authorized its redaction in the tightly compressed Mishna. In this course, students study the Mishna text with the accompanying Gemara elucidation focusing on the required critical thinking skills.

Required for all students. No prerequisites. Offered in Fall term.

GM02 Gemara Survey: Translating/Explicating Mishna-Gemara, II

5 credits

Gemara analysis begins with the Mishna, the powerfully compressed repository of the Masoretic Oral law, and the precursor of the Talmud. Course work focuses on building translation skills for the ancient (Loshon Kodesh/Aramaic) language with its archaic syntax, and cryptic phrasing. The terminology is deeply coded with concepts and principles that need to be teased from the scholarly discourse. The shiur demonstrates these skills by providing applied readings of the assigned passages.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM01. Offered in Spring term.

GM03 Gemara Survey: Translating/Explicating Mishna-Gemara, III

5 credits

This course expands student skills in Bkuis study of the Mishna/Gemara. The emphasis is on developing fluency in translating, understanding and mastering the source materials. Students learn to make a coherent translation of the often obscure text with its many different (but connected) parts to arrive at a complex matrix. The process is far from straightforward, involving elaborate reconstructions of arcane discussions and debates. The shiur offers an explanatory reading of the text.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM02. Offered in Summer term.

TI04 – Talmud Methods: Deconstructing the Text, I

7 Credits

Assigned tractates are selected from the Orders of Nashim and Nezikin. Pursuing a methodical approach to Talmud learning, students translate, analyze and explore the deeply nuanced source texts. Through a process of thrust and parry, student chavrusas interrogate each other's interpretation of the textual selections and selected commentators. The dialectical process promotes speculative competences and fluency in Talmudic discourse. Students come to shiur having completed a basic preparation of the assigned text with relevant Rishonim.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI03. Offered in Fall term.

TI05 – Talmud Methods: Deconstructing the Text, II 7 Credits

This course hones analytic and critical thinking skills as applied to the assigned Talmud tractate. For the research component of this course, student chavrusa pairs translate, discuss and critically analyze the assigned texts in order to structure a coherent pshat. The shiur/lecture focuses on the interpretive fine points of the primary material and on elucidating a selection of the theoretical commentary offered in the secondary literature. The shiur extends the scope beyond Rashi and Tosfos to authoritative commentaries of the twelfth through fifteenth centuries.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI04. Offered in Spring term.

TI06 – Talmud Methods: Deconstructing the Text, III 7 Credits

This course is designed to bring the student to the next level of learning, preparing him for independent Talmud analysis. Students systematically probe the layered Talmud cases and commentaries with a set of programmatic questions: what information is offered to support the arguments as presented? Is the chain of reasoning sturdy and reliable or contingent? Can the facts equally support a different conclusion? What are the cardinal assumptions undergirding the reasoning? This analysis is guided by the authoritative Rishonim.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI05. Offered in Summer term.

GM 04 Investigating the Gemara: Text and Rashi with Commentary, I

5 credits

Text removed by centuries from its context and its period takes on varied meanings. The authoritative guide to deciphering and studying the Gemara is the medieval French scholar, Rabbi Shlomo Yitzchaki, (1040c.e.–1105c.e.) known by the acronym Rashi. Rashi's handwritten copybooks form the standard gloss to virtually the entire Talmud. His unmatched guide provides translations, explanations for opaque phrases and most importantly a commanding interpretation of the text. Students learn to study the Rashi commentary with great care and attention to each detail and each original turn of phrase.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM03. Offered in Fall term.

GM05 Investigating the Gemara: Text and Rashi with Commentary, II

5 credits

Students work through the thicketed paths of Gemara discourse to arrive at a preliminary preparation of the assigned text material. In all assigned tractates, except for Bava Basra, the students make extensive use of the Rashi commentary in their analysis of the Mishna and Gemara. For Bava Basra they rely on the Rashbam (Shmuel ben Meir, c.1085 c.e.–c. 1158 c.e., Rashi's grandson). The shiur offers an interactive discussion of the text.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM04. Offered in Spring term.

GM06 Investigating the Gemara: Text and Rashi with Commentary, III

5 credits

Devoted to extending Bkuis learning skills, this course trains students to analyze the Pirush Rashi not simply as a guide that offers assistance with translation, context and decoding but as a sophisticated commentary that frames the Gemara conceptually. They learn to read this venerable Kunteres with meticulous attention to its details (diyukim), studying them against the larger body of explanatory strategies used in related case analyses. The aim is to arrive at a consistent and well-integrated pshat; that is a logically coherent, properly contextualized narrative that is persuasive.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM05. Offered in Summer term

TI07 Intermediate Talmud: Analyzing Commentary Literature, I

7 credits

Chavrusa study of the primary text through the prism of the principal medieval Talmud Commentaries: analyzing format, structure, syntax and logic of argumentation. The Rishonim wrote for a select audience of scholars. Their brevity and use of specialized vocabulary pose a challenge to the contemporary student who must master a style and a pattern of argument that is seven or eight hundred years removed from the present. Students learn to focus on the large picture first and then turn to specific particulars.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI06. Offered in Fall term.

TI08 Intermediate Talmud: Analyzing Commentary Literature, II

7 credits

Researching the major Rishonim to form a coherent overview of the major conceptual models used in explicating the assigned Talmud sugyas, students draw upon the theoretical interpreters including Rashba, Ran, Ramban, Ritva and Shitah Mekubetzes to develop deeply informed readings of the text. Aided by these powerful lenses, Students compare and contrast related case texts from the entire shas to tease out essential interpretive concepts and principles. Fine distinctions are identified and innovatively applied to practical and hypothetical cases.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI07. Offered in Spring term.

TI09 Intermediate Talmud: Analyzing Commentary Literature, III

7 credits

Carrying out intensive research in the commentaries, students are tasked with resolving apparent contradictions and discrepancies in the tractate texts. Chavrusa preparation expands to include the great codifiers of the Talmud: the Rif, Rambam, and Rosh. They probe the internal logic of the codifiers and the process by which these Rishonim arrive at authoritative Halacha L'Maaseh. They propose explanations to account for differing halachic conclusions among the codifiers, relating these differences to fundamental variations in how these Rishonim conceptualize the Sugyos. Shiurim orient students to the methodologies of Shmatza aliba d'hilcheseh.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI08. Offered in Summer term.

GM07 Overview of Masechta: Pshat with Meforshim, I

5 credits

Directed study of Gemara with instructional guidance and supervision. Students translate and assimilate the interrogatory Gemara as it painstakingly analyzes the Mishnaic teachings. They utilize the basic blatt commentaries to deconstruct the case narratives. Periodic shiurim focus on particularly complicated sugyos from the assigned tractate. The shiur works through the intricate dialectics, addressing questions and challenges that riddle the text.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM06. Offered in Fall term.

GM08 Overview of Masechta: Pshat with Meforshim, II 5 credits

Students pursue the extensive study of the assigned Mishna and Gemara according to a weekly schedule of research and assignments. In addition to consulting each Rashi, students also study selected Tosfos commentaries on the assigned tractate. The Tosafists' commentary offers discussion and comparative analysis of the text. The aim of these studies is to emerge with a clear understanding of the Shakla Vetaria - the thrust and pary- of the various Tannaim and Amoraim. Students are required to master the maskenos, the conclusions of the various cases that are studied.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM07. Offered in Spring term.

GM09 Overview of Masechta: Pshat with Meforshim, III 5 credits

Students work through a sequence of topics in the assigned Gemara tractate. Some texts are discursive, others are analytic and yet others offer metaphoric parables. Recorded in a time that recognized no disciplinary borders, a sugya may refine a principle derived from medical ethics by analyzing its use in such unrelated fields as torts and Sabbath prohibitions. The course advances student proficiency in the Gemara's distinctive reasoning process and holistic approach while expanding content mastery in the ethical philosophy, legal system and social life of the Jewish people.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM08. Offered in Summer term.

TI10 Talmud Theory: Elucidating the Debates, I 7 credits

Advancing their analytical approach to the Talmud, students add layers of complexity to their analysis. Considering the text as a labyrinthine puzzle, a mazelike ur-text to be deciphered with great precision, they consider: given a range of possible options, why is a particular principle used as opposed to another; what best explains the basis for the conceptual disagreements that are presented; why does one school of opinion rely on a novel application of an established principle while another rejects it as inapplicable? Answers to these and similar questions are researched through the rich secondary literature.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI09. Offered in Fall term.

TI11 Talmud Theory: Elucidating the Debates, II 7 credits

Expanding the scale and scope of their research, in this course students make use of theory-based Achronim to construct chains of argument (shitos) from the Rishonim commentaries. Lacing together concepts and principles from a dense field of contrasting and often conflicting analyses, the analytic Achronim offer discerning, categorical readings of the secondary Talmudic literature.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI10. Offered in Spring term.

TI12 Talmud Theory: Elucidating the Debates, III

credits

Based on their research in the Rishonim and Achronim, students arrive at a comprehensive overview of the conceptual models that expound the Talmud cases under review. Students deliver chaburah presentations based on this research. The chaburos are interactive in the form of searching Talmudic dialogue between the presenter and peer participants.

Required for all students. Prerequisite T111. Offered in Summer term.

GM10 Chavrusa Study of Gemara Topics, I

5 credits

Talmud passages can be excavated to uncover underlying principles and conceptual connections, but their surfaces also shimmer with important lessons. Student chavrusa pairs carry out research in an extensive selection of Gemara folios advancing their Bkuis study. The survey style is designed to provide a global view of the tractate and to equip students with yedios, broad Talmudic concepts. The objective is to master the use of legal, historical and deductive approaches to reconstruct the original intent of the Mishnaic authors.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM09. Offered in Fall term.

GM11 Chavrusa Study of Gemara Topics, II

5 credits

While the Mishna/Gemara is organized by tractate, within the tractates the subject matter is protean and disparate. The Talmud does not necessarily catalog its case studies topically. Cases are investigated conceptually. Analytic strings can range from discussions of korbanos to Shabbos rules to betrothal, while detouring into history, the local market, and ethical theory, all within a single synoptic passage. The survey is designed to move students rapidly through the material by having them focus on key issues and concepts so that they acquire broad familiarity.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM10. Offered in Spring term.

GM12 Chavrusa Study of Gemara Topics, III

5 credits

Students in chavrusa pairs independently translate, analyze and master 35 folio pages of assigned Gemara text, paying close attention to the process of debate and presentation of proof for the various positions that are outlined in the text. Students cover in fine detail the rabbinic Takanos and Gezeiros as well as the Maskanos, the halachic conclusions offered by the ancient academies whose debates form substantial portions of the Gemara.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM11. Offered in Summer term.

T113 Advanced Talmud Analysis: Chiddush, I

7 credits

This course is devoted to research in Talmud sources to produce creative theoretical work. Drawing upon the full field of primary and secondary Talmud literature, integrating diverse methodologies and bodies of learning, students prepare intricately scaffolded original and innovative approaches to a range of Talmud themes and topics. Selected works are presented in chaburos for comment and critique.

Required for all students. Prerequisite T112. Offered in Fall term.

T114 Advanced Talmud Analysis: Chiddush, II

7 credits

Pursuing an approach that views the entire Talmud as an integrated whole, students continue to craft their own creative scholarship. Applying a rigorous analysis that has kept the Talmud alive and relevant over millennia, they investigate concepts and principles by means of comparison, analysis and creative distinctions, to arrive at learned constructions of the text and its explicators.

Required for all students. Prerequisite TI13. Offered in Spring term.

GM13 Advanced Gemara: Expanding Scope and Scale, I 5 credits

In this senior level course, students bring to bear their advanced analytic skills and content knowledge to engage in vigorous dialectic colloquies with study-partners and faculty advisers as they analyze multiple chapters of assigned Gemara material. The objective is to make an integrated understanding of both Halachic and Aggadaic portions of the Gemara a part of active memory.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM12. Offered in Fall term.

GM14 Advanced Gemara: Expanding Scope and Scale, II 5 credits

Bkuis emphasizes developing a contoured sense of the forest without getting lost among the trees and their dense undergrowth. Utilizing a perspective that focuses on more than one issue at a time, blending in diverse elements to construct a compound reality, students master passages that range from case studies to legal briefs to ethical parables, to narratives describing ancient social customs and their systems of regulation, to forms of civil society and social control.

Required for all students. Prerequisite GM13. Offered in Spring term.

TS07 Talmudic Argumentation: Enquiry and Resolution, I 7 credits

This Talmud course is devoted to training the student to move through a tractate purposefully and to identify the core concepts that are the main points of scholarly discussion. Student pairs proceed through the assigned tractate to build a coherent understanding of the shitos for each sugya. In the process they sharpen language skills in the Loshon Kodesh-Aramaic language used in Talmud, acquire a facility for Talmudic methodology and styles of argumentation and gain fluency so that, for example, the unpunctuated text can be read in a manner that distinguishes between a statement of fact and a question, a statement that is ironic and one that is to be taken literally.

Prerequisite TI06. Offered in Fall term.

TS08 Talmudic Argumentation: Enquiry and Resolution, II 7 credits

The directed pace of study and analysis of the assigned tractate is designed to complete the entire tractate. Students master an extensive working Talmud vocabulary and develop a fluency in Talmud translation and enquiry. Intensive review periods are designed to fix the shakla vetaria of the Tannaim and Amoraim into long term memory. Regular exams test powers of recall and description.

Prerequisite TS 07. Offered in Spring term.

TS09 Talmudic Argumentation: Enquiry and Resolution, III 7 credits

Students study the assigned Tractate at a pace designed for them to assimilate substantial swaths of primary material. The emphasis is on achieving a broad perspective on the entire tractate. Assigned Masechtos are designated from the Orders of Nashim and Nezikin. The balance between research in primary and secondary sources leans heavily toward extensive coverage of the primary text. While the emphasis is on comprehension and retention, attention is paid to refining deductive skills related to following often complex trains of argumentation.

Prerequisite TS 08. Offered in Summer term.

TS10 Talmud Dialectics: Scholarly Synthesis, I

7 credits

In this course student chavruses translate, debate and assimilate fresh textual material at the pace of a blatt per week. The focus is on having the study pairs compare and analyze a wide range of case studies and Talmud briefs with the aid of Rashi, Tosfos and a curated corps of Rishonim. These studies promote thinking skills associated with comparing and contrasting explicative texts and identifying dissimilarities to help isolate distinctive patterns.

Prerequisite TS 09. Offered in Fall term.

TS11 Talmud Dialectics: Scholarly Synthesis, II

7 credits

Driven by the rapid pace of study, research in the secondary literature must be carefully targeted. The student learns to use the rich bibliographic literature with care and discretion, making efficient use of the most appropriate explanatory sources. The stress remains on primary text study, placing a premium on the chavrusas developing their own (often original) sevaras to explain textual debates and deliberations. Emphasis is on digesting the expository and analytic case narratives.

Prerequisite TS 10. Offered in Spring term.

TS12 Talmud Dialectics: Scholarly Synthesis, III

7 credits

As they immerse themselves in extensive segments of Talmudic source material, students are required to integrate the various shitos into a comprehensible, well organized system of ritual, law, practice and thought. Assessment in the course is determined by quality of discourse in chaburah, level of kishron in dialogue with faculty, retention of studied material as demonstrated on exams and keeping pace with the prescribed plan of study.

Prerequisite TS 11. Offered in Summer term.

TS13 Talmud Comprehensive: Halacha and Aggada, I

7 credits

Course methodology is driven by the objective of methodically moving through shas. In the law-based case studies, students analyze the fundamental principles, the contending shitos and the basis for the differences of opinion. While studying the Rishonim, the emphasis is less on the theoretical commentaries and more on the codifiers who offer firm dispositive conclusions about the cases. Thus, students pay a lot of attention to the Rif, Rosh and Rambam's Yad Hachazaka, whose terse conclusive rulings bring the extensive and intricately detailed legal debates to clear and unambiguous decisions.

Prerequisite TS 12. Offered in Fall term.

TS14 Talmud Comprehensive: Halacha and Aggada, II 7 credits

In their study of Talmud topics, students confront complicated passages that are deeply allegorical and metaphorical. To achieve a persuasive reading of the material they rely on the ethical commentators who deconstruct the symbolic language and interpret the Aggadata texts. At other points in the tractate, students analyze the applications of the thirteen fundamental principles of deduction and inference used in deriving Talmudic concepts. Students focus particularly on distinctions; some are important while others are not material. To pass the test of significance, distinctions need to have implications and consequences.

Prerequisite TS 13. Offered in Spring term.

DEPARTMENT OF HALACHA

The Department of Halacha (Jewish Law) offers courses on principles and applications of Jewish Law. The Jewish legal codes govern every aspect of Jewish life in all circumstances. Moreover, these courses deal mainly with practical law as applied to daily life.

The basic text studied in this department is the “Orach Chayim” volume of the authoritative “Shulchan Aruch” (Code of Jewish Law). Students study the Halachic codes written by the great Poskim, Rabbeinu Yosef Caro and Rabbeinu Moshe Isserlis, as well as the more contemporary Halachic authorities such as the Shulchan Aruch Horav and the Mishna Brura.

There is a high bar for the level of iyun in Halacha in the Hilchos Shabbos program. The practical halacha is stated in the Mishna Brura. However, the student in the Hilchos Shabbos program delves into the actual development of the halacha tracing back to the Gemara and Rishonim through the Tur and Bais Yosef and then the major Nesei Keilim on Shulchan Aruch, including the Taz, Magen Avrohom, Pri Megadim, R’ Akiva Eiger, etc.

Also, before beginning each new siman in Shulchan Aruch, the student in the Hilchos Shabbos program will first review the source of the Halachos in the Gemara, Rashi and Tosfos. This is generally followed by a summary of the opinions of the Rif, Rambam and Rosh. With this solid background, the student can begin to appreciate the subtleties and depth of scholarship found in the Poskim in Shulchan Aruch.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

HA07 Halacha Fundamentals: Process and Procedure, I 7 credits

This course focuses on the process for deriving governing Halacha, as the student transitions from Talmud-based learning to studying codified law. Beginning with a Halacha topic, the student learns to search for the basis of the law in the Shulchan Aruch. But the simple Halacha needs to be understood in its full context. What are its roots; its authoritative source? The process takes the student from the case texts of the Talmud, to the Rishonim, the Tur and the Bais Yoseif.

Prerequisite TI06. Offered in Fall term.

HA08 Halacha Fundamentals: Process and Procedure, II

7 credits

Students in this course focus intensively on the Beis Yoseif al haTur's analysis of the varied Rishonim commentaries as the basis for understanding the derivation of the Halacha as presented in the Shulchan Aruch. The student learns to examine and consider relevant opinions from a wide range of Rishonim, analyzing their often counterposed views. By studying the conceptual framework for the halacha, the student emerges with a fuller sense of the law's context as derived from the Talmud case texts and its interpreters.

Prerequisite HA 07. Offered in Spring term.

HA09 Halacha Fundamentals: Process and Procedure, III

7 credits

The student continues to develop the gateway skills and knowledge for advanced Halacha scholarship by studying assigned portions of the Tur and Shulchan Aruch, guided by the analysis of Beis Yoseif, Bach, Darkei Moshe, Drisha and Prishah. The derivation of the Halacha can be straightforward when the laws are directly sourced from Talmudic maskanos, but most halachos are constructed by reasoning from comparisons, extrapolations and implications. Painstaking dissections lead the student to a deeper understanding of the creative process that applies the Talmudic concept to fresh situations and conditions.

Prerequisite HA 08. Offered in Summer term.

SA07 Introduction to the Sources, I

5 credits

Students study assigned chapters in the Shulchan Aruch. They focus on basic law and work in chavrusa pairs to arrive at a clear and precisely drawn understanding of the law and its varying applications. They study the elements of the law, its underlying principles and distinctive circumstances that are discussed in the legal commentaries. With this course, the student begins to build the "legal grid" that he will commit to memory.

No Prerequisites. Offered in Fall term.

SA08 Introduction to the Sources, II

5 credits

The Halacha is meticulously analyzed by reference to its antecedents, with guidance provided by the local commentaries. Utilizing the Magen Avrohom (or Shach in Yoreh Deah) and Taz, as well as other interpreters and explicators, the student immerses himself in the Halachic codes to master a thick catalog of cases and examples of everyday Halachic applications. Students commit to memory the precise order of the Halacha, chapter and verse, without confusion or ambiguity. Topic chapters are assigned from Orach Chaim or Yoreh Deah sections of the Shulchan Aruch.

Prerequisite SA 07. Offered in Spring term.

SA09 Introduction to the Sources, III

5 credits

Over the centuries, extensive Halachic literature has developed to explain, apply and extend the rulings of the Shulchan Aruch. Focusing on the assigned chapters in Shulchan Aruch, the students advance their critical thinking and precise legal argumentation skills by consulting a selection of these sources. They analyze the dispositive Halacha, dissect the conceptual elements, debate sevarahs, ask questions of the text and pursue their lines of enquiry through an expanding circle of poskim.

Prerequisite SA08. Offered in Summer term.

HA10 Halacha Methodology: Case Studies in Jewish Law, I 7 credits

The Shulchan Aruch of the Mechaber, (Rabbi Yosef Caro) relied most heavily on the legal opinions of three principal Rishonim: the Rif, the Rambam and the Rosh, generally arriving at his psak by following the majority opinion of these Rishonim. In some instances, the Mechaber records the opinion of the Rambam as decisive, even when that view represents a minority position. Through research and analysis of the Halachic rulings, students develop an understanding of the method used by the Shulchan Aruch and gain an understanding of the concepts, case examples and final applications of the Halacha.

Prerequisite HA09. Offered in Fall term.

HA11 Halacha Methodology: Case Studies in Jewish Law, II 7 credits

Rabbi Yosef Caro authored his comprehensive digest of the law based on the Talmud Bavli and Yerushalmi, the Tosefta, Sifra, Sifri, Mechilta and other primary sources as understood by the Rishonim codifiers. His rulings relied principally on Sephardic authorities and much less on the Tosafists and other Ashkenazic scholars. The Rema, Rabbi Moses Isserliss, systematically added glosses and emendations, supplementing Rabbi Caro's code with the opinions of Ohr Zorua, Mordechai, Smak, Sma, and Hagohas Maimon (who generally built their opinions on the work of the Tosafists). From these sources and the Maharil's comprehensive chronicle of Ashkenazic tradition, Rema expanded the law with his hagohos. This process made the Shulchan Aruch representative of the diverse halachic traditions, and cemented its place as the authoritative Jewish legal text for the ages. Students study the assigned chapters and analyze the different Halacha perspectives of the Mechaber and the Rema.

Prerequisite HA 10. Offered in Spring Term.

HA12 Halacha Methodology: Case Studies in Jewish Law, III 7 credits

Students in chavrusa pairs apply their growing Halacha skills based on depth and breadth (havonas hayesodos and hekef), carrying out analyses of assigned chapters in the Shulchan Aruch. They develop an appreciation for nuance and the realization that Halacha is not a cut and dried process. Its process includes a series of mitigating considerations and precedent-based flexibilities. Based on these precedents, students explore how, under pressing circumstances like shaas hadchack, hefsed merubah, etc. the Halacha allows for leniencies based on opinions in the Rishonim. In addition to other cases, students will analyze a number of such cases and their limits to very specific situations.

Prerequisite HA 11. Offered in Summer Term.

SA10 The Principal Halachic Interpreters, I 5 credits

As Jews settled in different parts of the world, separated by national barriers and great distances, two important branches of halachic tradition developed. They came to be known as "Sephardic" and "Ashkenazic" lines of practice, each identified with distinctive customs, ethnic inflections and diverse epistemological approaches. Students expand content mastery by methodically interrogating and analyzing the application of precedent, custom and practice to the construction of the assigned body of legal codes, paying close attention to halachically significant differences between Mechaber and Rema that illustrate these separate lines of tradition

Prerequisite SA09. Offered in Fall term.

SA11 The Principal Halachic Interpreters, II

5 credits

Focusing on assigned chapters in the Shulchan Aruch, students expand the range of their research in the halachic literature. In addition to studying the principal commentaries of the Magen Avrohom and Taz, (Orach Chaim) or Shach and Taz (Yoreh Deah) as well as the Vina Gaon, R' Akiva Eiger, Nodeh B'Yehudah and others, they extend their familiarity with the distinctive approaches of the Halachic commentators. Utilizing these authorities, they investigate references, disentangle complex debates and navigate intricate turns in halachic reasoning.

Prerequisite SA10. Offered in Spring term.

SA12 The Principal Halachic Interpreters, III

5 credits

This course deepens student analysis of the Halacha. The basic work of the Shulchan Aruch forgoes citing sources. Relying on the Be'er Hagola pirush to locate and examine the source citations, students study the halacha in its original context in order to better understand its parameters. They also carry out research in post-Shulchan Aruch poskim, analyzing the innovative applications of venerable concepts to situations and technologies that developed after the Shulchan Aruch was composed. For example, much creative scholarship with serious halachic implications is devoted to establishing the halachic definition of electricity and under what heading of creative work (Melacha) it may be categorized in regard to Shabbos and Yom Tov.

Prerequisite SA11. Offered in Summer term.

HA13 Advanced Halacha: From Theory to Practice, I

7 credits

As the central source of Jewish Law, the Shulchan Aruch continues to grow. Virtually from the moment it was authored new questions that had not been treated in the Law Codes arose. The questions may have been new but the process for addressing them was deeply in place. Students research contemporary shaaylos (legal questions), drawing links to established halacha by using the tools of logic, comparison, contrast and imaginative thinking. They research the learned literature and analyze how the rabbinic authorities apply their powers of analysis, creative thought and application of Halachic theory to expand the authoritative Law.

Prerequisite: HA 12. Offered in Fall Term.

HA14 Advanced Halacha: From Theory to Practice, II

7 credits

Having been trained to dissect a case into its various components to arrive at a well-ordered conclusion, students hone their skills of medameh milseh l'milseh by carrying out advanced research in consultation with poskim and scholars. By mastering the assigned codes with the commentaries of the Magen Avrohom, Taz, Pri Megodim, Shulchan Aruch Harav, Biur Halacha and selected contemporary poskim, they are able to bring a wide-angle perspective to halacha, probing selected Responso and proposing fresh approaches to contemporary questions in the Halacha.

Prerequisite: HA 13. Offered in Spring Term.

SA13 Halachic Responsa I

5 credits

The ongoing interpretation and application of the practical Halacha gave birth to a specialized literature known as Shaaylos Uteshuvos (Responsa). Case queries that are complex, novel or require learned analysis were presented to Halachic sages for psak (halachic decision). They would analyze the issue and prepare an interpretive brief based on immersion and learned analysis in the Talmudic, Halachic and related literatures. Inter alia, these printed responses marshal evidence derived from comparisons, precedents and relevant legal principles to arrive at a determinative conclusion. Students study this advanced literature for process, content and system of analysis.

Prerequisite SA12. Offered in Fall term.

SA14 Halachic Responsa II

5 credits

This course continues the study of the unique form of legal discourse found in the Responsa. Authored over the many centuries by great scholars of Talmud and Halacha, these learned tracts represent a specialized discourse in the form of essays and briefs that build new law based on legal theory and interpretive scholarship. Students analyze a range of Shaaylos U'teshuvos to learn how the Halacha has been applied under varying circumstances as the law grew and adapted to changed circumstances while remaining faithful to the original Talmudic principles.

Prerequisite SA13. Offered in Spring term.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSSAR AND CHASSIDUS

The study of Ethics and Chassidus is central to the development of a Ben Torah. It exposes the student to the classic ethical and philosophic works, and in particular those written by the great Chassidishe Rebbes. The outlook provided in these works provides the foundation for the student's growth in Yiras Shomayim, Middos Toivos and Shleimus.

Be'er Yaakov Talmudic Seminary seeks to develop the complete person and not just his knowledge in a specific discipline. Therefore, an important element of the Yeshiva's mission is to strengthen the student's character and moral fiber. In our tradition, morality can only be defined in a spiritual framework. If not, the concept of morality is a dependent variable reflecting the changing values of the day. It is for this purpose that the courses in the Department of Ethics are offered: to train students in the basic tenets of Jewish faith and to develop their abilities of self-analysis and character improvement. The study of Mussar and Chassidus is a course of self-development achieved primarily by independent study. Therefore, although mandatory, credits are not earned for Mussar and Chassidus.

Accordingly, the Yeshiva's courses in Musser and Chassidus expose students to some of the classical literature in Jewish Ethics, Philosophy, and Spirituality including the renowned Mussar seforim, such as Chovos Halevavos (Duties of the Heart), Sha'arei Teshuva (Gates of Repentance), and Orchos Tzaddikim (Ways of the Pious). Students will also delve into well-known Sifrei Chassidus such as Meor VaShamesh, Meor Einayim, and Bnei Yissoschor. These works will be explained in more detail below. The outlook provided in these books provides the backbone for the formation of the complete student's ethical and Chassidic composition.

Text Listings/Mussar

Chovos Halevovos (Duties of the Heart) by R. Bachya Ibn Pakudah (Saragossa, Spain, early eleventh century) presents the ethical teachings of Judaism and its fundamental beliefs in a systematic pattern, emphasizing the importance of the commandments relating to belief and providence.

Sha'arei Teshuva (The Gates of Repentance) by Rabbenu Yonah of Gerona (b. Gerona, Spain, c. 1180, d. Toledo, Spain 1263), describing the steps to repentance.

Orchos Tzaddikim (ways of the Pious), a classic of unknown authorship, from the era following the Ramban (Rabbi Moshe Ben Nachman), it deals with the refinement of character traits and the ways of penitence.

Text Listings/Chassidus

Meor Einayim was written by Rabbi Menachem Nachum Twersky, the grandfather of the current Skvere Rebbe. Known by the name of his work as the "Meor Einayim" (meaning "vision", lit. "the light of the eyes"), Rabbi Twersky founded the Chassidic dynasty of Chernobyl. The dynasty is named after the Ukrainian town of Chernobyl, where Rabbi Nachum served as the maggid ("[communal] preacher").

Rabbi Twersky was a student of the Baal Shem Tov (the founder of Chassidus) and his pupil and chief disciple, the Maggid of Mezritch. He is considered one of the pioneers of Chassidus. His book Meor Einayim ("Light [of One's] Eyes"), comprising insights on the weekly Torah portion, reflects his proclivity to Kabbalah. It has gained widespread acceptance as one of the major works and foundations of Chassidic ideology.

Meor VaShemesh was written by Rabbi Kalonymus Kalman Halevi Epstein (born in Neustadt, Poland, c. 1753). Rabbi Epstein was known as the holy Meor VaShemesh. His work Meor Vashemesh was published by his son Rabbi Aharon Epstein. It offers profound chassidic insights interwoven with kabbalistic thoughts, arranged according to the weekly Torah portions. It is recognized as one of the most significant books on chassidic ideology and has gained universal acceptance.

Bnei Yissoschor is a sefer of essays on designated Shabbosos and the Yomim Tovim, by the order of the year, according to Chassidic and kabalistic thought. It was written by Rabbi Tzvi Elimelech ben Pesach of Dinov in Zholkiev in the year 1850.

SHIUR DALED COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

As explained above, Shiur Daled is a department which caters to a group of students who require assistance with their studies and are provided with special classes and programs to encourage them to remain in a Yeshiva environment. Some of the courses provided, such as the Halacha courses, are given with our mission in mind:

- ✳ “... imbue the students with the maturity to undertake lifelong Torah learning, and for those who cannot undertake such, to lead a life according to Torah values.”

As such, it is important that as long as these students are in Be'er Yaakov, they amass as much Halachic knowledge as possible so they can truly lead a life according to Torah values and guidance. The Shiur Daled Halacha and Mussar classes are set up accordingly – to achieve breadth of knowledge rather than depth of knowledge to support this mission.

GD07 Gemara Kal, I

5 credits

This course is designed to provide students with the foundations for analytic Talmud study. The focus is on transmitting fundamental skills: vocabulary, language and terminology to equip them for the study of Talmud. Working with texts in an ancient language and a style of discourse that is far removed from the present, the aim is to have them develop a familiarity and a comfort level with Talmud study. The focus is on teaching how to familiarize the student with the unpunctuated text and on developing the skill of reading the often perplexing and dense source texts. The format for the course is shiur/ lecture followed by chazara/review.

No prerequisites required. Offered in Fall Term.

GD08 Gemara Kal II

5 credits

The second course in the Kal series continues to enrich student skills in studying the Talmud in its original format and unraveling its enduring lessons. The aim is long term: to create a sense of connection, accomplishment and regard for the subject matter so that the student will have the skills and commitment to lifelong appreciation of Talmudic learning. The emphasis is on building familiarity with the textual patterning, the line of questioning and the use of precedent, case studies and derivations through the 13 principles of Talmudic analysis to arrive at responses to the questions posed.

Prerequisite GD 07. Offered in Spring Term.

GD09 Gemara Kal, III

5 credits

In this course, the emphasis is for the student to develop an understanding of the manner and approach of the premier Talmud commentator and interpreter, Rashi. Rashi's unparalleled research and encyclopedic knowledge open the door to understanding unusual concepts, arcane terms, unfamiliar idiomatic expressions and for providing context for some of the more recondite Talmud passages. He sets the direct path to pshat, the literal interpretation and face value meaning of the text. The shiur explicates the text by the light of Rashi's pirush.

Prerequisite GD 08. Offered in Summer Term.

GD10 Gemara Kal, IV

This course continues the approach of its predecessors: students attend a shiur that translates, explains and elaborates on the basic gemara. The objective is to have the students develop a store of content knowledge while also promoting a set of Talmud-oriented critical thinking skills. Students are encouraged to ask questions, participate in class discussions and interact with the shiur. For these students, the ability to ask questions, offer their own opinion about a theory, case or ethical example or even express puzzlement, represents a critical opening to a subject that they once felt was beyond their ken. It represents important progress and is weighed accordingly.
Prerequisite GD 09. Offered in Fall Term.

GD11- Gemara Kal, V

5 credits

This course is devoted to expanding student skills through applied study of the assigned tractate. Assigned tractates are selected from the Orders of Nashim, Nezikin and Moed. While the emphasis remains on developing a flowing pshat with the aid of the Rashi commentary, students are familiarized with the other major page commentary, the Tosfos. Students become acquainted with Tosfos' interrogative methodology. Often the Tosfos commentary begins with a difficulty, presenting an apparent contradiction between two or more authoritative texts only to resolve the puzzle by developing a conceptual distinction between the texts, in this way building a nuanced understanding of the original passage. Tosfos offers students a gateway to studying the gemara within the larger fabric of the comprehensive shas and explicating the subtle shadings of meaning in the layered Talmud.
Prerequisite GD 10. Offered in Spring Term.

GD12 Gemara Kal, VI

5 credits

In this course, students learn to work as a chavrusa pair applying the methodical approach to Talmud learning. The pair study the Gemara text with the aim of preparing a competent line by line translation of the assigned passage. Rashi helps them reconstruct the case/passage and follow the debates and deliberations. Their next step is to venture an analysis of the passage to explain, as best they can, the basis for the different positions taken by the Tannaim and Amoraim. They also refer to selected assigned Tosfos to help clarify the basic concepts that support the opposed views. After completing this basic preparation, students follow the shiur and match their own reading of the text and its interpretation with the advanced version delivered in the shiur.
Prerequisite GD 11. Offered in Summer Term.

GD13 Gemara Kal, VII

5 credits

Chavrusa pairs translate, analyze and apply a precise method to working through the text, deciphering phrase by phrase, and referring at every point to Rashi to develop a larger picture of the principles being developed. The chavrusa pairs use the process of questioning each other and testing various theories of explanation until they finally arrive at a satisfactory understanding of the case and its underlying lessons. Through this process they develop a fluency in Talmudic discourse. The goal of the shiur is to have the students incrementally deepen their analysis and expand their understanding of the fundamental interpretive concepts.
Prerequisite GD 12. Offered in Fall Term.

GD14 Gemara Kal, VIII

5 credits

The final course in this Talmud sequence is designed to lock into place the lessons the students have gathered in their previous coursework. With the completion of this course, they will either move on to mainstream courses or complete their formal study of Talmud. Therefore, the objective is to equip the students with a sense of curiosity and wonder about the many lessons, the essential ethical values and the deep teachings that the Talmud makes available to them in this extraordinary compilation of wisdom. The shiur emphasizes reading and comprehension skills in three languages: Aramaic, Loshon Kodesh and Yiddish with clear, precise and contextual understanding.

Prerequisite GD13. Offered in Spring Term.

Mussar: Chovos Halevovos

Students in this program are avidly interested in the deep philosophical questions that have an enduring tradition in Jewish life. They find these questions riveting and significant. Precisely for this reason the Mussar program aims to open a dialogue around essential discussions of Jewish thought and ethical philosophy. Philosophy, the use of logical systems of thought to seek ultimate truth and reality, is an important part of Jewish tradition. It makes a rigorous application of rational concepts to axioms of faith, and represents an effort to bridge the world of man with the spiritual world of pure knowledge. There is a long tradition of philosophical works that articulate and develop foundation principles of Jewish philosophy. Broadly conceived as part of Mussar, this field considers such issues as: the fundamental principles of Judaism; man's purpose and obligations; the credos of Judaism; the role of faith, free will and determinism; the nature of Divinity; eschatology.

Students in this program complete a four-course sequence in Jewish ethical philosophy. The focus is the classic work of Rabbeinu Bachya Ibn Pekuda. Written in the eleventh century, it remains unequalled in its breadth and influence. One of the principal messages conveyed throughout the treatise is that faith must be active, a commitment of mind and heart; it must come out of a process of intellectual engagement and not simply be the passive result of an inherited set of unexamined values. Belief must be founded on systematic reason and knowledge.

Class discussions focus on the formal writings in the Chovos Halevovos primer but also lead to broader topics. The aim is to internalize these values through introspection so that they become habits of mind and behavior. Among the related topics: love for Hashem, formulas for devotion and piety, loving one's neighbor and empathizing with his needs and emotions, repentance, the pursuit of modesty and humility, and shaping a life in quest of serene joy (simcha). Some of the character traits which must be developed to achieve these goals are: gratitude (hakoras hatov), patience (savlonus), generosity and kindness (tzedakah), diligence (hasmodoh), integrity, earnestness and sincerity (emes), avidity and passion (zrizus).

MD07 Mussar: Chovos Halevovos, I

2 credits

The first course provides an introduction to the general approach of the author and of his philosophical analysis in Shaar Habechina.

MD08 Mussar: Chovos Halevovos, II2 credits

The first half of the Chovos Halevovos: Shaar Bitachon sequence. This course focuses on the medieval thinker's discourse in Shaar Habitachon on the nature of trust and its relationship to the attributes of Hashem. This section treats the method of internalizing and developing trust in Hashem.

MD09 Mussar: Chovos Halevovos, III2 credits

The second half of the Chovos Halevovos: Shaar Bitachon sequence. This course focuses on confronting nisayon, the tests that life puts us through and how the believing, trusting individual must approach these tests. The larger lessons for ordering one's life with the view that at the same time that he puts trust in Hashem, he is responsible for hishtadlus: making decisions and exerting efforts. This section treats the approach to seeking a livelihood, pursuing a trade and protecting oneself from perils.

MD10 Mussar: Chovos Halevovos, IV2 credits

This course is concerned with the principles adumbrated in Shaar Hateshuvah regarding the special grace of teshuva.

MD11 Mussar: Chovos Halevovos, V2 credits

Shaar HaTeshuvah is a primer to repentance. Students study the difference between sins of omission and of commission. Teshuvah involves action on both fronts: seeking to carry out positive good actions where they have been neglected, and to abstain from evil desires and actions. This course continues with practical applications to paying proper attention to frequently ignored or neglected mitzvos and how to train oneself to avoid negative perspectives that lead to the commission of aveiros.

MD12 Mussar: Chovos Halevovos, VI2 credits

This course considers R' Bachya's specific steps to teshuvah and analyzes the steps and the particular order for fulfilling each step. There is discussion and analysis of the following steps: recalling and developing a full consciousness of the aveirah, expressing and demonstrating a profound regret for having committed it; a determination to change conduct so that there is a firm commitment to avoid the aveirah, confessing the aveirah and praying for Hashem to pardon him through forgiveness.

MD13 Mussar: Chovos Halevovos, VII2 credits

Students analyze the manner of introspection prescribed by Chvos Halevovos to bring about a change of heart and perspective through awe and contrition. Discussions involve practical paths for achieving teshuvah through regret, grief and shame; moderating physical enjoyment and display and foregoing even permissible enjoyments to indicate that one is engaged in the process of change and seriously repenting for past misdeeds, in contemplation of his nefesh and its future. Framing the process: accomplishing repentance through a humble, prayerful manner and earnest spirit.

MD14 Mussar: Chovos Halevovos, VIII

2 credits

Shaar Cheshbon Hanefesh lays out the basic structure for defining a way of life with practical examples drawn from real life. This course explains how to construct an agenda for a serious life and its obligations and forges opportunities for the pursuit of excellence and purity of nefesh. Prishus and other strategies nurture the nefesh's higher faculties which enables beholding the deeper mysteries of life.

Halacha: Kitzur Shulchan Aruch

Halacha is a critical part of any curriculum of classic Torah study; it sheds light on the nature and texture of Jewish life through the ages and it lays out the legal basis for every aspect of a considered, carefully reckoned life. Like every other set of courses in this program, the selection of topics and texts has been carefully considered to reflect the interests and preparation of the students in this program.

The Kitzur Shulchan Aruch, published over 150 years ago, was compiled by Rabbi Shlomo Ganzfried to serve as an essential reference of Jewish law, ritual and custom. It offers an authoritative summary of the most directly applicable laws in a clear and well-organized system that traces the obligations for a Torah observant Jew. It is based on the rulings of the Shulchan Aruch and is also informed by the opinions of post-Shulchan Aruch commentaries, drawn from a carefully curated set of Halachic studies and scholarly responsa.

The Kitzur is strongly influenced by the works of the Shulchan Aruch HaRav; and the Chavei Adam - Chochmas Adam, carrying forward the line of psak and practice of Ashkenazic tradition. The language is accessible and the text avoids discussing those laws that are not relevant to contemporary Jewish life. It offers clear legal decisions on what is permitted and what is forbidden without ambiguity.

Given its conciseness and careful editing, it is an ideal and important source for establishing a framework for Halacha study especially when it is supplemented by extra work in the Mishnah Berurah (something many students in this program do on an elective basis during their optional night seder). Students in this program complete eight of the courses listed below.

HD 07 Kitzur Shulchan Aruch, Topics in Hilchos Shabbos, I

5 credits

The laws of Shabbos are detailed, complex and important. In this course, students learn about the sanctity of the Shabbos that is ushered in with the preparation for the Shabbos, kabalas Shabbos service, followed by the Kiddush and Seudah. Each of these steps involves a precedent-based set of rituals that are followed precisely, whether it has to do with the choice for Kiddush or the way foods may be allowed to cook on the stove. This course is a primer on these elements and on the special prayer service.

No prerequisites required.

HD 08 Kitzur Shulchan Aruch, Topics in Hilchos Shabbos, II

5 credits

The special nature of the Shabbos is ringed with a series of laws that protect its tranquility. These laws – referred to as the 39 melachos- are biblically derived and define what may and may not be done on the Shabbos. The laws of Shabbos range from defining the four spatial domains to the intricate rules and prohibitions for each of the melachos as well the positive obligations for honoring the Shabbos. Classes include discussion of psak regarding halachos that are applicable to contemporary life.

No prerequisites required.

HD 09 Kitzur Shulchan Aruch, Hilchos Yom Tov I 5 credits

Yomim Tovim and Moadim play a critical commemorative role in Jewish life and these days of meeting present an opportunity for prayer, ritual and the fulfillment of unique commandments. Students study the common laws of the Yom tov, the prohibitions both biblical and rabbinic, from such principal melachos such as Mavir, Borair, Losh and Ofeh to other prohibitions like Hachona, Muktzeh and the entire set of rules that apply to Yom Tov Sheni shel Galus.

No prerequisites required.

HD 10 Kitzur Shulchan Aruch, Hilchos Yom Tov II 5 credits

The specific laws regarding the cycle of regalim: Pesach, Shavuos and Succos and the days of awe: Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. These laws include discussion of the halachos of tshuva, tfila, shofar; the laws of the Succah, the Four Minim; halachic definitions of prohibited chometz, discussions of the Hagaddah, Seder and the many ritual Pesach foods of this highly complex festival. For Chanukah: hadlakos neiros; for Purim: krias hamegillah.

No prerequisites required.

HD 11 Laws of Kashrus, Blessings and Meals 5 credits

Jewish Law defines a system of food preparation and use that applies Biblical and Rabbinic principles. Among the ritual practices studied in this course are the laws of melicha (preparing properly slaughtered meats for kosher consumption), Bishul Akum (the status of foods prepared by idolaters), the separation of Challah, the various categories of prohibited foods, meal preparation and practice, general and specific rules for blessings (before and after consumption).

No prerequisites required.

HD 12 Laws of Property and Business Transactions 5 credits

This course focuses on established ethical and Halachic practice in commercial and professional dealings. Students analyze a wide sample of cases involving property, tort and marketplace laws. They investigate the halachic restrictions on deceptive practices, business competition, interest and usury; and on withdrawing from oral commitments. They also study proper management practices regarding labor.

No prerequisites required.

HD 13 Laws of Betrothal, Marriage and Family Purity 5 credits

In Jewish law, the detailed formula for creating a lasting bond between husband and wife begins with Kiddushin, the betrothal. Like all the steps that are to follow, this rite is based on precisely drawn Talmudic law. Students analyze the halachic standard for appropriate witnesses and the detailed formula for the Kiddushin ritual. They proceed to study laws of the Kesubah (marriage contract), the Nesuin (nuptial ceremony) and a host of related topics, including Yibum and Gittin. This course also offers a digest of laws regarding traditional family purity practices.

No prerequisites required.

HD 14 Laws of Ceremonial Practice, Rites of Passage and Mourning 5 credits

Jewish life is marked by a series of rites of ceremonial passage as well as family obligations for properly raising and instructing their offspring. In this course, students analyze the laws of milah (Covenant of Abraham), pidyon haben (redeeming the first born), and the duties and responsibilities of chinuch (child rearing). Students also study the laws of safeguarding life, responsibilities for treating the ill and infirm, and the detailed laws of kvurah, shiva and aveilus (burial and mourning practices).

No prerequisites required.

HD 15 Kitzur Shulchan Aruch, Hilchos Brachos 5 credits

The intricate laws of brachos have been described as one of the most complex areas of Halacha because of the range of variations and applicable guidelines regarding kedima, taus, hefsek, smichus daas and ikar/tofel. The types of brachos range from food to natural phenomena to blessings for gratitude and mitzvos. Students learn the practical application of the laws and also the principles governing such issues as priority, classifying the primary uses of a food or beverage and identifying the principal ingredient in a mixture of foods.

No prerequisites required.

HD 16 Kitzur Shulchan Aruch, Hilchos Masa Mattan/ Ribis 5 credits

This course teaches practical laws regarding business and money matters. There are laws prohibiting commerce in items that are prohibited, whether the prohibition stems from the nature of the item (e.g. food that is ossur b'hanoa) or if it stems from a prohibition due to the manner of its acquisition (e.g. stolen goods) or the item has a disqualifying character (e.g. an idol). This course also studies the prohibitions on interest and usury and varying forms of rabbinic prohibition that are attached to this stringent biblical ban.

No prerequisites required.

HD 17 Kitzur Shulchan Aruch, Hanhogas Haboker 5 credits

The life of an observant Jew is prescribed in Halacha from the early morning through the day and until he goes to sleep. This course covers the laws of daily practice and ritual.

No prerequisites required.

HD 18 Shulchan Aruch, Tzitzis, Tfilin, Mezuzah 5 credits

Students learn about the Torah-prescribed laws regarding daily ritual practices. Each of the mitzvos must be carried out in a precisely prescribed manner from the knotting of the tzitzis to the exacting process of preparing the tfillin scripts and their repositories to the carefully cured parchment prepared for the mezuzos.

No prerequisites required.

HD 19 Shulchan Aruch, The Laws of Prayer and Prayer Service 5 credits

Halachos (many based on case law from Talmud Tractate Berachos) dealing with such topics as the fundamental expression of Jewish faith - the Shma- to the daily thrice repeated shemoneh esrei, with its various seasonal and holiday related emendations and the detailed laws of Kaddish.

No prerequisites required.

DEPARTMENT OF CHUMASH

The Chumash Department offers study of the Written Law, or Torah She'bichsav. It is from the Written Law that the Oral Law, or Torah She'bal Peh, including the Talmud, is derived. The study of Chumash follows a traditional cycle, as one portion of the Chumash per week is read publicly each Shabbos and studied independently. Thus at the end of each year, the entire Chumash is studied. The study of Chumash is a required course of study. However, because students are not tested, no credits are earned for the study of this course.

Reviewing the same basic Chumash text year after year is in no way repetitive or limited. As the student becomes more familiar with the weekly portion, the core text is studied in greater depth and sophistication using more difficult approaches and a greater breadth of commentaries each year.

Students cover the weekly portion with the commentary known as “Rashi”, written by the 11th century Talmudic sage, Rabbeinu Shlomo Yitzchaki, one of the greatest Torah scholars who ever lived. This commentary provides extremely lucid and comprehensive explanations of the Chumash, using an economy of words to arrive at the most concise translation.

As the students advance in their knowledge of Chumash, they are trained to use and understand other commentaries as well. There are a vast number of important commentaries on the Chumash that students may choose from to assist them in their studies, such as the Sifsey Chachomim, Ramban, Kli Yakar, Ohr HaChaim, etc.

Text Listings

Sifsey Chachomim - Shabsai ben Joseph Bass (1641–1718) (שבתאי בן יוסף), born in Kalisz, was the father of Jewish bibliography, and author of the Sifsei Chachamim supercommentary on Rashi's commentary on the Pentateuch (Amsterdam, 1680). It is a clear, concise commentary on Rashi's commentary on the Torah, containing explanations collected from many sources, and also giving the sources of verses or other statements cited by Rashi. It is very popular and has been published many times in editions of the Torah with Rashi's commentary. Many of these editions contain an abridged version of the Sifsei Chachamim called “Ikar Sifsei Chachamim”.

Kli Yakar: Rabbi Shlomo Ephraim ben Aaron Luntschitz (1550–1619) was best known for his Torah commentary Kli Yakar. He was born in Lenczyk (also known as Luntschitz) and studied under Rabbi Shlomo Luria in Lublin and subsequently served as Rosh Yeshiva of the Yeshiva in Lvov (Lemberg). In 1604 he was appointed rabbi of Prague, a position he filled until his death.

Ohr Hachaim – Rabbi Chaim ben Moses ibn Attar was a Talmudist and kabbalist born in Mequenez, Morocco in 1696. He died in Jerusalem on July 7, 1743. He was one of the most prominent rabbis in Morocco. He published Ohr ha-Chaim (The Light of Life), in Venice, 1742—a commentary on the Pentateuch after the four methods known collectively as Pardes. The sefer Ohr HaChaim was reprinted several times. His renown is based chiefly on this work.

"Pardes" refers to (types of) interpretation of text in Torah study. The term, sometimes also spelled PaRDeS, is an acronym formed from the same initials of the following four approaches:

- Peshat (פֶּשֶׁט) — "surface" ("straight") or the literal (direct) meaning.
- Remez (רֵמֵז) — "hints" or the deep (allegoric: hidden or symbolic) meaning beyond just the literal sense.
- Derash (דִּרְשָׁה) — from Hebrew darash: "inquire" ("seek") — the comparative (midrashic) meaning, as given through similar occurrences.
- Sod (סוֹד) — "secret" ("mystery") or the esoteric/mystical meaning, as given through inspiration or revelation.

Each type of Pardes interpretation examines the extended meaning of a text. As a general rule, the extended meaning never contradicts the base meaning. The Peshat means the plain or contextual meaning of the text. Remez is the allegorical meaning. Derash includes the metaphorical meaning, and Sod represents the hidden meaning. There is often considerable overlap, for example when legal understandings of a verse are influenced by mystical interpretations or when a "hint" is determined by comparing a word with other instances of the same word.

Ramban - Nahmanides, also known as Rabbi Moses ben Nachman Girondi, and by his acronym Ramban, (Gerona, 1194 – Eretz Yisroel, 1270). His commentary on the Torah was his last work, and his most well-known. It frequently cites and critiques Rashi's commentary, and it usually provides alternative interpretations.

DAILY SCHEDULE

The following is the daily Seder of the Yeshiva:

- ✿ 7:30 am - 8:30: Shachris
- ✿ Shachris is followed by a Seder in Chumash with Ohr Hachaim commentary
- ✿ 9:30 - 1:15: Morning Seder
- ✿ 1:15: Lunch
- ✿ 2:45-6:30: Afternoon Seder
- ✿ 6:10 – 6:30: Sifrei Chassidus (winter Zman)
- ✿ 6:30 – 6:50: Sifrei Chassidus (summer Zman)
- ✿ 4:45: Mincha (winter Zman)
- ✿ 6:15: Mincha (summer Zman)
- ✿ 8:30-9:45: Night Seder

Yeshiva - Bais Heller

- ✿ 7:00–8:40: Bekius Seder
- ✿ 8:40–9:40: Shachris
- ✿ 9:40–10:30: Breakfast
- ✿ Bochorim are given an extended breakfast during which time they learn Chumash with Rashi.
- ✿ 10:30-12:20: Hachana L'Shiur
- ✿ 12:20-1:50: Shiur
- ✿ 1:50-3:30: Lunch
- ✿ 3:30-3:50: Mincha Ketana (Winter time). Skver has a minhag not to daven Mincha Gedola. All minyanim for Mincha will be scheduled in time for Mincha Ketana. During the summer Zman, Mincha will be scheduled at approximately 6:10, towards the end of second seder, and Maariv will be scheduled at the end of night seder.
- ✿ 3:50-6:30: Second Seder
- ✿ 6:30-6:50: Maariv
- ✿ 8:30-9:35: Night Seder

Yeshiva – Lichter (new building)

- * 6:45-7:30: Optional Seder
- * Students who are Masmidim and wish to complete the entire Mesechta during the academic year come early to learn during this “fahrtugs” (early morning) seder. The Yeshiva suggests students learn the Perakim (usually two designated Perakim) that are needed to complete the Mesechta. However, Bochorim can choose their subject of learning. A Mashgiach is present to help Bochorim and answer questions.
- * 7:30-8:45 – Shachris
- * 8:45-9:30: Breakfast. During this time students will take the time to learn Chumash/Rashi
- * 9:30-12:30: Hachana L’Shiur
- * 12:30-1:45: Shiur
- * 1:45-3:00: Lunch
- * 3:00-5:00: Second Seder
- * 5:00-5:20: Mincha
- * Mincha in the Lichter building is scheduled during second seder, as it is a Minhag in Skver not to daven Mincha Gedola. During the summer, Mincha is scheduled at the end of second Seder.
- * 5:20-6:45: Second Seder continues
- * 8:00-9:45: Night Seder

Brooklyn Location

- * 8:00 – 9:15: Shachris
